The first hard, documented fact we know about Leonard Vernedeau is that he was granted a on the Savannah River by the British Crown Colony of South Carolina on 9 April 1736. Fr he left a broad trail which is well documented. We know whom he married and who his desc down to today. But where and when was he born? These are questions that have eluded us. we know: There is a line of Varnedores in South Carolina who trace themselves to an Adam There is also a book, The Mobley's, Their Connections by W.W.Dixon, which tells a wild t Varnedore accompanying a Mobley from Ireland to Pennsylvania, then to South Carolina. T our known facts and Adam is, no doubt, just another descendant of our Leonard Vernadeau. of our family, John Varnedoe, who was descended from Henry Varnedore, one of Leonard's s oral tradition in his family that Leonard was born in 1717 and Leonard's father born in 1657 and his father in 1628, all without names or places. Actually the 1717 date for Leo quite reasonable, since he must have been at least 16 years old to obtain that trading licence, yet he married i children well into the 1750s. John's tradition had Leonard and his father as the only me escaping a massacre in the Vivaris Province of France. I once corresponded with a Varnad western branch of the family) who had letters from a British genealogist showing Leonard London, England. It seems that there was a tombstone with Vernedeau carved on it which this person claimed to have seen. However, after paying thi to document the find, he claimed the cemetery had been destroyed and was no longer visib getting more fees from our family member. I believe he was robbed, and that no such tombstone ever existed. It is true that some Huguenots did migrate to Engl move on to America, but this is pretty thin evidence for our Leonard. I have several let Lawyer named Pierre Vernadeau who lived in Paris, France. Now deceased, he thought he wa the French Vernadeaus. He wrote that he had traced his family back as far as the French 1795. Unfortunately, this is not far enough to get back to our Leonard, who was already then. Pierre claimed the revolution had destroyed the parish records. He wrote that his family came from the Limousin District of France, and that the name Leonard was a fr family, being named for a famous Limousin Saint. He stated that a fragment of data liste the Bishopric of Limoges. (the "di" could well be a latin gramatical ending for "do" or

He stated that a fragment of data in the [illegible] the Bibliothe et Vinaque, a the "Ai" could well be a Latin grammatical ending for "Ae" or the Limousin. Pierre also concurred that the name derives from the root VERNE, an old Fr Alder tree. This leads to Vernet as meaning an Alder grove. Add "de eau" (by water) to Alder grove, then put it all together and get VERNED'EAU meaning "An Alder Grove by the the "Dictionaire etymologique des noms de lieux en France" there is a city called Vernet-les-Bains in the Rousillon district, derived from the name Verneto. B French, like Old English spelled phonetically. Thus, "Verneto" sounds exactly like "Vern Its mayor has written me that Vernet-les-Bains is indeed a " villedeau," although there name Vernedeau living there now. However, it is very close to the Spanish border in the mountains. I have corresponded with some Verneda families in Barcelona who say they cam Pyrenees area. Verneda in Catalan, the language of Barcelona, means, " An Alder Grove b is confirmed by their Coat of Arms (which they sent me) which shows two trees by a band of water. However, these arms were granted too late to be ancestral to were the Vernedas able to trace themselves back into the early 1700s. This lead also end In Reitstap's Memorial, there is a Coat of Arms listed for the Verneto name in Vaud. Vau Switzerland, but may have been in France then. Despite Pierre Vernadeaus idea that all p were destroyed, he was obviously mistaken because the Parish Registers of St. Maurice La Souterraine, Dept of Creuse (part of the Limousin) list: Gabriel Vernadaud (1685), Franc (1691), Pierre Vernadaud (1695), Leonard Vernadaud (La Terrade 1699), Marguerite Vernad then that Francis Vernadaud married Jean Ducet (1687) and Francis Vernadaud married Simo These odd spellings could well be just phonetic spellings, after all, look how the Rev. our name! "La Terrade" is a location near La Souterraine. I have been told by a Frenchman that Vernadaud is a possible variant form of Vernadeau. If so, with John Varne could stretch back our ancestors' names two more generations, or correct Leonard's birth possible. Note that this date will fit the American record but not John's tradition. Recently, Bill Hutto (Wiliam H. W. Hutto) concerning Sarah Hutto's husband, our Leonard Vernadeau, has him born near Limoges, in the Limousin in 1717, died 1794 in Orangeburg, his father's name as Jean Vernadeau, born 1682 near Limoges, Married Anna ? and died 173 Without references, this sounds like a composite of what I had written in my early book, Varnedeau and Sarah Hutto, Three Generations," and including John's oral tradition. Exce and Anna," which is new, much of this has been written, piece-meal, in the "Varnado Genealogist" when it was published by Harrell Varnado. So there we are. I sure would lik Parish registers in France. But where? Vernet-les Bains, as pointed by the linguistic ev Catalans think, Vivaris as given by John's oral tradition, or St. Maurice La Souterraine seems to indicate along with Pierre Vernadeaus belief, or elsewhere? And did he come di or stop in England?

MUSTER ROLLS OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA GRANVILLE AND COLLETON COUNTY REGIMENTS OF MILITIA, 1756

Edited by Robert M. Weir *

Because militia laws stipulated that all men (except slaves) between the ages of sixteen and sixty were to be enlisted, the muster rolls of the militia provide a potentially rich source of information about the population of South Carolina prior to the census of 1790.[1] Unfortunately, however, these records are now woefully scarce. Hitherto, lists of men who served on the 1759 expedition against the Cherokee Indians have been the most important returns from the royal period generally known to scholars. But these documents include only volunteers and contingents from selected regiments.[2] Moreover, records that might conveniently supplement the militia rolls are either equally rare or of limited utility. For example, virtually all of the district tax returns from the royal period have now disappeared, while the extant colonial jury lists record only the names of taxpayers.[3]

The two muster rolls published here are therefore especially important. Fortunately they are also unusually fine examples of the [2] South Carolina Commons House of Assembly Records, Committee to Audit the Public Accounts, "Approved Pay Lists for the Men and Officers in the 1759 Cherokee Expedition," reported June 6, 1760, S. C. Archives; Christopher Gadsden and others to Governor William Henry Lyttelton, Oct. 31, 1759, Lyttelton Papers, William L. Clements Library, Univ. of Michigan. For related items, see also John Stuart to Lyttelton, July 11, 1757, which encloses two muster rolls of his company at Fort Loudoun. Lyttelton Papers, Clements Library. Part of the regiments commanded by colonels George Gabriel Powell, John Chevillette, and Richard Richardson were drafted for the 1759 expedition against the Indians, but the men turned out so poorly that Lyttelton subsequently ordered up a composite detachment of nearly 500 men drawn from various companies in Berkeley, Granville, and Colleton counties. Oct. 4, Nov. 10, 1759, South Carolina Council Journals, XXVIII, 125, 141, S. C. Archives. Gadsden and 32 others volunteered.

[3] No attempt is made here to inventory the extant records of each type, but for examples see the "Assessment on Edisto Island in St. Paul's Parish," April 20, 1732, Ford Collection, South Carolina Miscellany, New York Public Library; and Jury and Tax lists in the S. C. Archives. The minimum qualification for jury service was payment of twenty shillings or more in taxes. Statutes at Large, III, 279-80.

genre. Reports of militia strength generally appear to have been based on educated guesswork.[4] Not satisfied with this method and concerned about hostilities between Great Britain and France, Governor William Henry Lyttelton shortly after his arrival in South Carolina ordered each militia colonel to furnish complete information about the strength of his unit. By the spring of 1757 all regimental commanders had turned in reports—including the two muster rolls published here. A tabulation of these returns in the Council Journal indicates that the South Carolina militia then consisted of eight regiments containing about 6,500 officers and men. The approximately 1,000 names appearing on the muster rolls of the Granville and Colleton County units therefore constituted roughy 15 per cent of the provincial militia.[5]

Although most white men then living in the two counties probably appear on these lists, there are some known exceptions. Colonel Thomas Wigg of the Granville regiment reported that a number of "foreign Protestants from Germany" sufficient to form a company had settled on the headwaters of the Combahee River but that they had not yet been enrolled. Comparison of the Council Journal and the Colleton County return also indicates that the latter omits three companies on Edisto, Wadmalaw, and John's islands which totaled 183 officers and men.[6] Transients and others unknown to the commanding officers may also have been omitted, but even the aged, the infirm, and other individuals usually exempt from muster were listed. They constituted the "alarm men," a kind of reserve subject to call during a general alarm.[7] Inclusion of this category clearly indicates that these *

Dear Mary,

Thanks for your check for $10.00 for the subscription to The Genealogist, all back copies of which are enclosed.

In addition to you, I sent complimentary copies of the fall issue of The Genealogist to several interested persons who I knew should have the information concerning Leonard Varnado's acceptance by the DAR as a Revolutionary patriot.

For years we all, like yourself, have worked completely over the possibility that Leonard, Sr., and not Junior, was actually the person involved in the Revolution, albeit the nature of his service is unknown since no service record exists.

However, let it be said to Leonard's credit that he was a pretty strong character in his early days as indicated by his skirmish with the port authorities at Savannah ..... in connection with his, and Peter Shepheard's, rum-running incident on the Savannah River, and his altercation with and petition for redress against Captain Pepper of the Fort Moore garrison. Leonard's rank of Sergeant of the Fort Moore garrison did enhance his experience as a soldier, and he obviously did not flinch at another tour of duty during the Revolution.

What puzzles me is why Leonard did not file for a pension following the War, unless as you stated he was drafted (or volunteered) for service and never saw any active duty, but was paid at a later date; and he felt that he did not deserve a pension. Does that sound plausible, or does the DAR have information that we don't have?

My conclusion is that the DAR was resigned to the fact that a Leonard Varnado was involved in the Revolutionary War, and that he was paid for his services as evident by the stub indents; also that his wife was named Sarah (Hutto) who filed for and was granted a pension by the State of South Carolina following the death of her husband.

Furthermore, there is no evidence that more than one Leonard Varnado served or was involved in the Revolutionary War. So little is known about Leonard-2, his wife's first name, his descendants, etc., that he was hardly a contender in their opinion; so, the DAR bent over backward and named Leonard-1 as the patriot.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Varnado

I appreciate and thank you for the data on the Newsom ancestors, and I am looking forward to finding more.

About two years ago I sent all of my ancestor papers to the NSDAR and was granted a membership in the DAR on Leonard Varnadoe's service in the War.

No one had filed on the name Leonard Varnado, Sr., or Jr. It took nearly a year, and they investigated every paper I sent them. Their conclusion was that Leonard, Sr., (I think, partly due to his previous stand against the English) was a true patriot and the man to whom the Revolutionary War stubs referred to as serving in the militia. His home was open to (his) sons also serving, as shown in Henry's deposition.

So, every descendant of Leonard is free to file for (membership in) the DAR or the SAR; and I am sending a copy of my certificate showing my number, #653159, so that anyone desirous of filing for either society may refer to this number.

Your periodical, "The Varnado Genealogist," is wonderful! I have sent sample copies of it to several of the James and Arcadia Varnado Daugherty descendants and hope they, too, will subscribe to it.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely,

Garnett E. Hughes

Dear Harrell,

I have really enjoyed "The Varnado Genealogist." You have certainly done a superb job as editor, and Ronald and I look forward to the reunion each year.

My father would have been your best supporter if he were alive today. His generation knew all the relatives and relationships. I'm sorry I did not record all the good stuff he used to tell me, that I did not want to hear then.

Thanks again for all your enthusiasm and organization.

Hello,

I still have not found who were the parents of Wesley Allen Varnadoe, or Varnadore, my great grandfather, b 23 Apr 1850 Terrell Co., GA, d 17 Feb 1935 Worth Co., GA. He m Sarah Frances Trammell, born 10 Apr 1865, GA, d 8 Jan 1920, Worth Co.GA. Some say his name was George?

Am enclosing some material on "Newsom" from "Pioneers of Wiregrass Georgia," by Folks Huxford, if anyone is interested.

Mount Nebo Baptist Church

This Church is reportedly the oldest Protestant Church--outside New Orleans. The records of this church date back 146 years. A sketch of this church and the original members was donated to the library in memory of Doris Varnado Green by her family. This was presented January 9, 1965.

Mount Nebo Church is located on Big Creek & was constituted on the 31st of January 1813. Because many of the early settlers of Tangipahoa Parish, were members of this early church, certain information from it is being listed.

SAMUEL WAS A TORY

Yes, Virginia, Samuel Varnado was a Tory (Loyalist) during the American Revolution! And, if you are among the countless number of women, and men, who have begged, borrowed, and stolen information and data which might have qualified you for membership in the DAR or SAR on Samuel's service, now you know why you failed, because he was not a Revolutionary soldier in the strictest sense of the word.

Doris Varnado Green would turn over in her grave if she knew about this revolting development since she swore, well almost, that she would someday and somehow discover that Samuel did serve in the Revolution.

True, Samuel did serve in the Revolutionary War, but as a Loyalist instead of a Patriot, in Captain John Salley's company of the Loyalist Orangeburgh Militia in the fork of the Edisto River and Orangeburgh, SC, for a period of six months (183 days), from June 14 to December 14, 1780, for which he was paid on November 23, 1781, by Robert Gray, Paymaster, Colonel.

And, to add insult to injury, Samuel's brother Henry also served along with him in the same company. There are no records to indicate that either Samuel or Henry re-enlisted in His Majesty's service, but let it be said to Henry's credit that he apparently worked both sides of the street, since he sold beef to the Colonial forces and also served with them on three different occasions.

According to Henry's application for pension, filed June 3, 1835, in Dooly County, Georgia, where he had moved from Orangeburgh District, South Carolina, first to Laurens County, then to Dooly County, his military service reads as follows:

> March 1779 - Served three months under Captain Henry Guissentien, stationed at Orangeburgh court house. Spring 1781 - Served three months under Captain John Wannamaker at Eutaw Springs, as guard of baggage wagons. August 1781 to February 1782 - Served six months under Captain Gideon Jennings, stationed at Orangeburgh courthouse.

Then, as incredible as it may seem, Henry also sandwiched in a six month tour of duty with the Loyalists, from June 14 to December 14, 1780, as indicated above. (See below)

This astonishing series of events is contained in a book entitled "Loyalists in the Southern Campaign of the Revolutionary War," by Murtie June Clark, published by the Genealogical Publishing Company, Baltimore, 1981, and is the first volume in a projected three volume work which derives almost entirely from military records located in the archives of the United States, Canada, and Great Britain.

Our first knowledge of this matter came in a letter some time ago from Mrs. Mary A. Petersen, Altamonte Springs, Florida, stating that a London genealogist had found that her ancestor, Joseph Courtrier (Cutrer), as well as Samuel Varnadoe, had served as Loyalists in the Revolutionary War. Then, the book showed up in the library of the Mississippi Archives and History, and we went to work.

However, all is not lost. Garnett Eliza Hughes has come to our rescue with her amazing acceptance for membership in the DAR on the service of Leonard Varnadoe (Vernadeau), as described on the cover sheet and page 3 of this issue.

(P.S. If you are wondering how Henry got paid by the "Feds" while serving with the "Rebels", that was easy; it was picked up by a friend, Donald Ray.)

SAMUEL WAS A TORY

In our first installment of "Samuel Was A Tory," many of you may have expressed surprise and dismay that Samuel Varnado, Sr., had the audacity and/or lack of patriotism to serve with the Loyalists in the southern campaign of the Revolutionary War in South Carolina. Our first thoughts were "How could he?", and "Why would he?"

However, when writing this article, my wife discovered to her dismay some "defectors" in her allied lines and proceeded to determine why? After researching several books, chiefly Salley's "History of Orangeburg County, SC;" Ninety-Six, The Struggle for the South Carolina Back Country," by Robert D. Bass; and "The South Carolina Civil War of 1775" by Lewis P. Jones; we believe the reasons were both the timing and self-preservation.

The early stages of the war were fought in such places as Bunker Hill, Lexington, Concord, Trenton and Valley Forge; and it was late in the war when the British moved southward in their southern campaign with battles at Camden, Cowpens, King's Mountain, Charleston and Savanah. By this time sentiment had hardened in the back country of the Carolinas, particularly South Carolina, and the settlers were lined up on opposite sides. There were numerous skirmishes and battles between the Patriots and Tories going back to the beginning of the war, and at one time a virtual state of civil war existed in the back country of South Carolina.

The British were quite successful in the South. Savannah fell in 1778, Charleston in 1780, and they quickly overran South Carolina and Georgia. However, late in 1780 and early 1781, after suffering heavy losses in the battles of King's Mountain and Cowpens, the British under Cornwallis retreated northward toward Virginia leaving only skeleton forces to maintain control in the South. It was at this point, spring of 1781, that the remaining British forces recruited many back-countrymen for guard duty and other miscellaneous duties for maintaining order and control in the area. And, no doubt, many of the settlers, relieved at the departure of the British Army and anxious to pick up some ready cash freely joined forces with the Tories in order to protect their own interests, rather than having their property overrun or plundered.

Although, from all indications, there were many avowed British sympathizers in the Colonies, some of the more ardent lived in South Carolina; and many of them migrated to the Mississippi Territory and the Florida Parishes of Louisiana immediately upon the acquisition of these areas by the United States following the Revolutionary War.

In the Mississippi State Archives at Jackson are several books concerning some of these early settlers of the Mississippi Territory and the Florida Parishes during the 1790s and early 1800s, with the implication therein that they were outright Tories who had fled from the Carolinas following the war because of the intense pressure and prejudice from the Patriots at their having been British sympathizers.

Sometimes we wonder about Samuel? How did he escape the Colonial draft, then later sign up with the Tories without a feeling of remorse? Our conclusion is that he obviously was not a hot-headed Patriot and took the path of least resistance. He was probably getting along nicely, thank you, and did not want to change anything. Then, when the crisis was past he signed with the Tories for extra cash and self-preservation.

PASSPORTS

It was the custom in the early 1800's for travelers to the territories to obtain a passport (a document that identified their citizenship and good character) from a local Judge. Many such passports were issued in Georgia. From Jones County, Georgia, we find the following:

*Issued to Leonard and Moses Varnado on October 1809, a joint passport states that they arrived in Jones County late last winter.

*Issued to George Varnado on 2 March 1810, a passport which states that he was from Orangeburg District, South Carolina.

*Issued to Samuel Vernando and family on 18 March 1811, a passport which states that he was from the Orangeburg District, South Carolina and that he had a wife and seven children and two slaves.

From these documents we see that the two brothers, Leonard and Moses obtained separate passports from their father, Samuel, and the remaining family. Also George got a separate passport. We would be unable to account for the seven children mentioned unless we surmise that the brothers, Nathaniel and Isham also traveled to Mississippi with their father and thus were among the seven children. They must have promptly returned to Georgia as we find a record of Nathaniel in Liberty County, Georgia in 1814.

Osyka Loses One Of Its Oldest and Most Loved Women

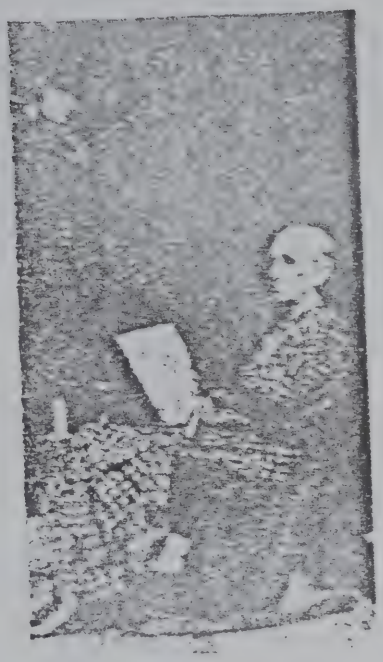
Mrs. Agnes Varnado Cutrer Is Widely Mourned; Was 86 Years Of Age

Mrs. Agnes Varnado Cutrer, one of the oldest residents of the Osyka community, died last week at the home of her son, Raleigh T. Cutrer. Mrs. Cutrer was 86 years old. The funeral services were conducted from the residence of Mr. Raleigh T. Cutrer by the Rev. S. A. Williams, pastor of the Osyka Baptist Church where Mrs. Cutrer had been a member for over 50 years, assisted by the Rev. William Cutrer, nephew of the deceased. She was buried in the family cemetery near Osyka.

Mrs. Cutrer for nineteen years survived her husband, Edward Wesley Cutrer, during his lifetime one of the most loyal members of the Baptist Church in Osyka. She was one of a family of thirteen, three of which now survive: John S. Varnado, Parham B. Varnado, and Mrs. Quinnie Grubbs, all of Osyka. Also surviving her are three daughters: Mrs. W. T. Gaines, Ruston, La.; Mrs. C. Mack Mooney, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Mrs. Ernest L. Ates, Little Rock, Arkansas; and two sons, Hugh E. Cutrer, Bogalusa, La.; and Raleigh T. Cutrer, Osyka. Eight grandchildren and a large number of nieces and nephews and friends are left to mourn her going.

Mrs. Cutrer for a long number of years was a regular attendant at the reunions of Confederate Veterans held in cities all over the South.

Reunion Visitor



"MRS AGNES CUTRER

Mrs. Agnes Cutrer, with her daughter, Mrs. W. T. Gaines, was here for the United Confederate Veterans' reunion from Ruston, La., having come to visit her daughter, Mrs. Mack Mooney, and Mr. Mooney at their home on Vine Street. She will remain for the summer months.

A native Mississippian, Mrs. Cutrer celebrated her eighty-fifth birthday anniversary March 4, last. She is the widow of a Confederate soldier, the late E. W. Cutrer, who served with Company B, Sixteenth Louisiana Volunteer Infantry. She has attended all the reunions for the past seven years."

Mrs. Marcus Diamond.

This data on the Family of Hutto, has been compiled from what is to be found on the name in the South Carolina Archives in Columbia, plus some data sent to me by the clients. In order to clear the lineage, I will need further data from the clients, plus some work in county court houses, Bible records and graveyard inscriptions.

1 The name has always been spelled as HUTTO by the family, however in the records made and indiced by the clerks, the name is also spelled by them as Houtto, Hotto, Howtoe, Hottow, Huttow, Utto, Houteau, Hotteau and other variations....I have also seen the name spelled as Otto.

2 Due to the fact that Sherman passed thru Orangeburg and Lexington and burned the records, it will be hard to prove many points in the history of the Hutto Family from county records.....The Hutto Family all lived in Orangeburg District from the time they arrived from Switzerland until the first Census taken in 1790....Hence it is a calamity that the Orangeburg records were burned.

4 ISAAC HUTTO was the first of the name to appear in South Carolina. He and his wife and seven children came from Switzerland sometime before 1743, which was 205 years ago...from what part of Switzerland he came from I have been unable to determine. He likely came from the French speaking Cantons...I have noted on old land plats in the Historical Commission that an Isaac Houtteau shows as an adjoining land owner...This spelling indicates that the Family was from the French Cantons of Switzerland.

5 All the Hutto people of S.C. descend from this Isaac Hutto #4..Then each lineage is carried back, they all will point to this Isaac Hutto as the common ancestor of all the members of the Hutto Family from S.C.

6 ISAAC HUTTO, received from the King of England, the 1st day of March 1743, a grant for 350a of land located on the Pon Pon River (Now called the Edisto) and for a half acre lot of land in the town of Orangeburg....I will now take items from Salley's History of Orangeburg County for more data on Isaac Hutto and mainly from the Church Register of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer of Orangeburg, for the Hutto Family were members of that Church..some of the old church records are still extant.

9 Admitted to Holy Communion 14 Dec. 1746, Benedict Kollers, the lawful son of Benedict Sr.& Magdalena Kollers.../Wit. Isaac Hutto, Bartholomew Spring and his wife, Margarheta Spring...This is the first time in the Episcopal Church record that the name of ISAAC HUTTO is mentioned, since he acted as the Godfather for this Benedict Kollers Jr., it is likely that he was a near relative.

10 ISAAC HUTTO was buried on Monday, August 17th, 1752..I quote the entire account of his burial and death as taken from the Church Register. "On Monday August 17th, was buryed the Body of Isaac Hottow, a Settler in this Township for several years past, who died suddenly on Saturday August 15th (1752) on the edge of the Path as he was going home and was found and taken up dead between his Home and the Town of Orangeburgh, no mark of any Fall or violence done him could be seen on his Body. He left a wife and 7 children, four of which are marryed. He was aged 57 years and buryed at his own Plantation"...end of quote and capitals used & spellings

11 Continued as the second part of the entry of the burial of Isaac Hutto, and I quote.."At the Same Time and Place, and into the same Grave was enterred the Grand child of the said Isaac Hottow, named Susannah Daughter of Charles and Ann Hottow, who died on Monday August 17th in the morning after a Fortnights Illness, aged one year.

12 The next burial entry..."On Wednesday Septr.29th was buryed at the Plantation of the late Isaac Hottow de'cd the Body of Catherine Daughter of Peter and Ann Griffice of this Township. She died the day before being Septr. 26th after two days Illness aged 3 years and about 9 months".

13 The widow of Isaac Hutto did not remain a widow for we find this entry..."On Tuesday April 24th (1753) Marryed by Banns, Henry Mell to Mary Catharina, widow of Isaac Huttow, late of Orangeburgh Township, deceased"....We see that the widow waited a bit over 8 months before she married a second time to Henry Mell.

14 The settlers in those early days needed wives...I checked on Henry Mell and noted that his wife had died some months before...I also checked Mell data to see if Mrs. Mary Catharina Hutto Mell, had left a will..I found no will for her, altho it may be in Charleston files for up to 1785 Charleston was the only county seat of S.C. and all wills, deeds, administrations and other records had to be recorded in Charleston.

15 Marryed 25th of May 1742 Peter Griffous (Griffith) to Anna Huttow, Anne Hutto was the eldest daughter of Isaac Hutto #4. Marriage #38

16 Leonhard Varnedow (Leonard Varnedoe) was marryed to Sirrah Hottow. The date is not legible...Sarah Hutto was a daughter of Isaac Hutto #4.

17 PETER HOTTOW was marryed to Margaret Barbara Shuler and the date is missing from the records...Peter Hutto was son of Isaac Hutto #4.

18 CHARLES HUTTOW was marryed to Ann Tshudy & date is missing...Charles Hutto was a son of Isaac Hutto #4. Marriage #40

These four marriages were between 1742 and 1750 ....Sarah Hutto marriage was numbered 39 and Charles #40..Peter #43..It seems from the Church entries that Sarah and Anne may have married the same day...Note #10 which states that 4 children were already married when Isaac died... These four are the ones.

19 The complete list of the SEVEN Children of Isaac Hutto Sr. and his wife, Mary Catharina Hutto were : (See #s 4 thru 18)

Anne Hutto	Sarah Hutto
Peter Hutto	Charles Hutto
Isaac Hutto Jr.	Jacob Hutto

The name of the seventh child, I was not able to discover...later on, I will make a conjecture as to the name of the 7th child....

20 ANNE HUTTO married Peter Griffith 25 May 1742 and they had these infant children baptized in the Episcopal Church at Orangeburg.

"Marryed Thursday..Privately, Peter Grieffous to Anna Otto /Lit. Peter Hurger & Jacob Kuhner (Now Horger and Koon) modern spellings. dated in Church register 25 May 1742.

"Baptized 3 Feb. 1747, THOMAS GRIEFFOUS, son of Peter & Ann Grieffous, God Parents, John Jones, Eugenia Jones & Thomas Jones."

"Baptized Sunday, December 16th 1749/50, In the Church, Anne Margaret, the daughter of Peter & Ann Friffous born 14 Oct. a.c. Godparents were Joseph Grieffous and"..rest not legible.

"Buryed, in the Isaac Hutto Graveyard at his plantation, Catherine, the daughter of Peter & Ann Griffith, 27 Sept. 1752, aged 3 years & 9 months"
*End of baptisms of children of Peter & Ann Hutto Griffith.

21 Peter Griffith and his wife, Ann Hutto Griffith, were God parents of several children...In the Episcopal Church, a boy infant had two male Godparents and one female Godparent....a girl infant has one male Godfather and two female Godmothers...In the main the God parents are close relatives

22 Baptized on Whit Sunday, June 3rd, 1750, Mary, the daughter of Joseph & Mary Griffith born April 12th a.c..God Parents were Adin Grogat, Mrs. Maria Catharina Ottow & Mrs. Ann Griffith (Anne Hutto #20)..The other Godmother was Mary Catharina Hutto w.of Isaac Hutto #19...I have an idea that Mary, the wife of Joseph Griffith was a daughter of Isaac Hutto #19

23 Baptized on Sunday Oct. 27, 1751 In Orangeburg Church, John, the son of David & Mary Jackson b. Oct. 4 curr. Godparents were Peter Griffith, Joseph Griffith & Maria Catharina w.of Isaac Hutto (#19)

24 Baptized on Sunday Nov. 19, 1752, William, the son of Joseph & ~~Mary Griffith~~ and Margaret Griffith, b. 2 Oct. 1752..Godparents were Christian Roth (now Roof), Peter Griffith & Mary Catharina w.of Elias ____Not leg.

29 Baptized Sunday Oct. 23rd 1757 in Orangeburg Church, Anna, the daughter of John Henry & Anne Margaret Shilling...Godparents were : Peter Griffith, Anne w.of Henry Rickenbacker & Mary Catharina w.of Henry Mell & see #13.

30 Baptized ___date missing save 175__..Patty, the daughter of John & Barbara Platt...Godparents were Mary Katherina w.of Henry Mell (See #13) Charles Hutto & Margaret w.of Samuel Densmore.

These entries show ANNE HUTTO #20 & her Husband, Peter Griffith #20 and also her mother, Mary Catharina Hutto Mell. #19....Likely these families for whom they stood as Godparents were related to them...altho some were on the Griffith side....Note the Platt in #30 & #25...I had wondered if Barbara Platt was the 7th child of Isaac Hutto #19.

31 SARAH HUTTO (Dtr. #19) married Leonard Warnedoe (The family now use the spelling of Varnedoe i.e. some branches use Varnedoe)..Their children as taken from Episcopal Church records for baptisms.

March 1st 1747 was baptized in the home of Mr. Thomas Fort, John Warnedoe, the son of Leonard and Sarah Warnedoe...Godparents were John ~~Xixxx~~ Goss, Mrs. Lawrons and since the child was very ill, for want of another Godmother, the mother of the child stood as Godmother. (I, from the record take the name "Goss John Fitz" but think it was John Fitz Goss..LA).

Baptized on Sunday Aug. 13th, 1749, Leonard, the son of Leonard & Sarah Warnedoe who was b. Jan. 15, 1749...Godparents were Isaac Hutto (I am not sure whether the grandfather Isaac #19 or Isaac Jr..LA) William Cooper and his wife, Sarah Cooper.

Baptized Sunday, March 15th 1750, Sarah, the daughter of Leonard & Sarah Warnedoe..date of birth and Godparents not legible.

Baptized March 15th, 1746...the Lawfull son ____name not legible...of Carl and Anna Hutto...Godparents were Jacob Rickenbaker (The same family as the flier, Eddie Rickenbacker), Joseph Buph and his wife who was Anna Maria Cuttier.

Baptized on Pentecost Sunday in the Oragneburg Church, John Henry Hutto b. 26 May 1753, the son of Charles and Anna Hutto...Godparents were, Henry Mell (Step grandfather) Jacob Tshudy (Perhaps the other grandfather) and Margaret McLannon (McLendon)

Baptized on Sunday Jan. 25th 1755, Charles Jr. son of Charles Sr. & Anna Hutto...Godparents were..Henry Rowe, Jacob Hutto (Brother of Charles) & Anne (Sister of Charles) wife of Peter Griffith.

John Gissendanner to baptize her....On Sunday Nov. 30th this child was brought to the church and received the Sign of the Cross and Godparents then named as Jacob Tshudy, Ann w.of Jacob Koon & Susannah Yonn (Yaun)

36 Baptized in Oragneburg Church Sunday Feb. 10th 1760, John Jacob, the son of John Henry & Ann Margaret Shilling..Godparents were Jacob Hutto , Charles Hutto & Ziblla Catharina w.of Martin Egly.

37 Baptized Anna Tshudy b. 17 Feb. 1760, the daughter of Jacob & Dorothy Tshudy ..Godparents were Simon Yonn, Margaret w.of Jacob Hutto and Anna w.of Charles Hutto.

It is stated that Jacob and Charles Hutto married sisters..I found no proof of this BUT the indications in #37 point to the fact that both Margaret w.of Jacob Hutto and Anna w.of Charles Hutto were Tshudys and sisters...Aunt or near relatives were always Godparents save sometimes a special friend acted...However among the Swiss and Germans of Orangeburg close blood kin and even grandparents always acted as sponsors so states Mr. A.S. Salley, who is an authority on Orangeburg history.

38 Baptized Anna Manenmacker (Mannamaker) b. 5 March 1760, the daughter of Jacob and Anna Mannemaker ..Fodparents were, Jacob Bowman, Anna w.of Joseph Deramus and Anna w.of Charles Hutto.

39 JACOB HUTTO (Son #19) wed ANNA Mannamaker (And not Tshudy as noted in footnote of #37)...Children baptized.

Henry, the son of JACOB and Anna Mannenmacher (Mannemaker) Hutto was born 27 March 1758 and baptized in the Church at Orangeburg...Godparents were Jacob Hutto, John Roth Jr. and Anna Magdalena Tapp.
*I am a bit confused as to who the Godfather, Jacob Hutto was unless the father acted which was never permitted unless of necessity as in #31a.
Baptized on Easter Sunday, April 10th.

CORRECTION to #39...I am in doubt whether this Jacob was the son of Isaac Sr. #19..Unless he had two wives.

40. The Communion List for Easter Sunday 1753 NO Whitsunday 1753.

Anna Catharina Mell	Isaac Hutto	Mary Tshudy
Margaret w.of Jacob Hutto	Agnes Huber (Hoover)	Jacob Faust
and others

41 Jacob Hutto with wife, Margaret Tshudy was wed by or before 1753 as noted in #40 ...also note #37 that Jacob Hutto and wife Margaret are still listed in the church records...also note that Jacob Hutto as God father in #39, is evidently the Jacob Hutto (Son #19)whose wife was Margaret Tshudy.....The Jacob Hutto #39 who married Anna Mannemaker is likely a grandson of Isaac Hutto #19.

42 PETER HUTTO/ (Son #19) married Margaret Barbara Shuler.....

Isaac Hutto b. 4 Dec. 1749, son of Peter & Margaret Barbara Hutto was baptized in the Orangeburg Church Jan. 20th 1750...Godparents were, Isaac & Charles Hutto (Brother of Peter) & Ann Margaret w.of George Shuler

45 Baptized Sunday Dec. 1st, 1751 Maria, the daughter of Michael Christopher & Margaret Rowe...Godparents were John & Barbara Gissendanner, ISAAC Hutto (#19 I think) & Susanna Barbara Gissendanner.

46 Baptized, Christian Roth b. 19 Feb. 1756, son of Christian sr. & Elizabeth Roth..Godparents were Barbara w.of John Platt, Isaac Hutto & Jacob Roth.

47 ~~Martha Linder b. 22 Nov. 1752 Susanna Linder b. 15 Aug. 1758 Elizabeth Linder~~ Daniel and Sarah Linder, had a son, Samuel Linder b. 28 July 1756 and baptized...Sponsors Jacob Gissendanner, Christopher Rowe & Elizabeth Linder.

49 Baptized this Sunday 1749, Ann, the daughter of John & Barbara Potts, Godparenst were Isaac Ottow, Mrs. Ann Ottow & Elizabeth Tshudy.

50 ISAAC HUTTO Jr. (Son #19) I was unable to find in the church register any wife for him or any children baptized.

51 Many pages are missing from the Church register...also page s 381 to 396 as well as pages 572 to 583 are completely lost....Many pages are torn and many not legible enough to read.

52 The Episcopal Church at Orangeburg was organized as a Lutheran Church and many of the members did not come into the Episcolal Church and hence there are no records...Again the Church register after 1762 has been lost. There were also branch churches at Amelia and at St. Matthews and no register for these two branch churches has been found.

This concludes all the Hutto names as sown in the old Church book of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer of Orangeburg, S.C....I will now take up the Hutto names as they show in the S.C. State Archives in Columbia, S.C.

HUTTO names in Revolutionary Files.

64a Henry Hutto, in Continental Lines under Capt. Oliver Towles and had a land grant of Bounty land #479...He died in 1817.

64b Another Henry Hutto, also in Continental Lines and from Orangeburg was in the Revolution...This Henry Hutto drew a Revolutionary pension as late as 1832.

One Henry was son of Jacob & Anne Mannemaker Hutto #39...The other Henry Hutto in Revolution was son of Peter and Margaret Barbara Shuler Hutto in #42.

64c Henry Hutto, 1 April 1783 has a claim for 2 head of cattle which he furnished for the American Troops...The file is empty save for the claim which was allowed.

64d HENRY HUTTO/ File 3915a as a private in 3rd S.C. Regiment (This is Henry #64b)...There is a bit of writing on the claim in German script which I could not make out....His claim was allowed...8 Mar. 1787 Henry Hutto, assigns the claim to John Moorer and witnessed by David Shuler & Nicholas Weaver..)I take this Henry to be son of Peter Hutton #42 whose wife was a Shuler.....John Moorer before Samuel Felder J.P. and witnessed by Peter Frederick, sells the claim to Jacob Free "To pay for 596a of land for my brother, David Moorer".

65 MARTIN HUTTO/ (Son #42) In the S.C. Continental Regiment Number One. and no further data on Martin...The Continental records are in the files in Washington...S.C. Archives have but scattering items.

End of Revolutionary Files for Hutto.

69 The first U.S. Census made in 1790...the 1st # indicates how many men in the house over the age of 16 including the husband.....the 2nd # indicates how many boys in the house under the age of 16.....the 3rd # indicates how many women and girls in the house including the wife. ALL names were in Orangeburg County in 1790...at that time Orangeburg included the present counties of Orangeburg, Calhoun, Bamberg, Barnwell, Lexington, and parts of Aiken, Saluda, Edgefield and Newberry....I have added some names of families who lived next door to some of the Hutto's.

Benjamin Hutto 2-2-3	Daniel Govan 1-0-1
Charles Hutto 1-1-2	George Hartzog 1-0-4
Isaac Hutto 3-3-3	Reddick Sojourner 2-0-1
Isaac Hutto 1-0-1	Gabriel Sojourner 3-0-1
Jacob Hutto 2-0-1	William Cato 2-3-5
Henry Hutto ~~xxx~~ 2-1-4	William Morris 3-1-2
Charles Hutto 1-0-1	Jacob Zeigler 2-2-3
John Hutto 1-1-1	Macajah Cohoon 8-1-2

This ends the 1790 Census and note that every Hutto in S.C. was residing in Orangeburg County or District.

70 Wills, deeds and administrations as well as Estate Settlements were made in the C.H. at Orangeburg..Since Sherman destroyed that C.H. there are no records for me to look into....Only one will under the name of HUTTO is on file in the records here..it follows and from Barnwell County.

71 HENRY HUTTO, a will sg. 7 Aug. 1817 and pr. 24 Oct. 1817 in the Barnwell Court House....Wife is named as Ann Hutto.....Children are not named in the will which merely states "When my wife dies, all of my children will share equal"...Executors to the will were, wife, Ann Hutto and son, William Hutto.../Wit. William Good, Henry M. Peeples & Nicholas Zorn.

71a From DAR data the name of the wife of this Henry Hutto was ANN ZORN.

71b From receipts in file and from other data, some of the names of the children can be proved..these follow :

71b Some proved children of HENRY HUTTO and his wife, Ann Zorn.

Rebecca Hutto	Mary Hutto m. Jacob Jackson (Polly Jackson)
John Hutto	William Hutto m. Lucy Montgomery.
Benjamin Hutto	Charles Hutto m.1 Miss Jeter m.2 Miss Gellman
Nicholas Hutto	Jacob Hutto m. Elizabeth Gillam.

There were other children, but whether they frew to maturity, is not known.

Old Henry Hutto and wife and some other members of the Family are buried in a Family graveyard in Barnwell County.

Since Henry Hutto named a son, Jacob Hutto, he is likely the son of Jacob Hutto #39, altho the birth date does not fit..BUT the Henry Hutto. son of Peter #42 was born in 1752...Henry #71 did not have a son named Peter, therefore, I am inclined to think Henry #71 a son of Jacob #38.

73 JABEZ B. HUTTO, now living in Denmark, S.C. and aged past 90, is the only living child of Rufus and Julia E. Nobles Hutto.

74 IF Mrs. Diamond could furnish me with the list of all the children of all the Hutto's in #72 with whom they wed, it would add greatly to this ms. on Hutto....Barnwell has many Hutto deeds and some administrations on Hutto BUT in the main they are of the Henry Hutto #71 set.

86 From the Book "History of the Wannemaker Family" page 53.."One of the Dantzler girls wed Lewis Shuler and they had 13 children, and from these 13 children are descended Shuler..Hutto..Conner..Bast..Berry.. Dear Mrs. Hutto,

Thank you for the nice letter and the news of all of your children. We all were interested in hearing about them. We often think of the happy days when we were neighbors at Trenton.

I have copied what you sent me and see if I copied it correctly. Make any corrections and return one of the blanks to me. Fill in any _____ spaces.

I plan to begin the Hutto work for the lady in Hattiesburg, Miss. sometime in December. I will make a complete carbon and send it to you. Her family of Hutto went from Orangeburg & Barnwell counties to Alabama many years before the War between the States. She is having me to try to look them up for her in S.C. files. It will be hard for old Sherman burned all the Orangeburg records.

A lady in Barnwell sent me her line from old Henry Hutto, the soldier in the Revolution. She joined the DAR on him. Keep that carbon on old Henry Hutto.

There is an old man, Jabez B. Hutto over 80 years old living in Blackville, S.C. Is he kin to Mr. Jack ? Old Mr. Jabez Hutto is a descendent of this old Man Henry Hutto being the son of RUFUS HUTTO #3 on the Mrs. Diamond paper enclosed. Mrs. Diamond is going to send me the list of children of Rufus, #3, Charles #4 and William #5.

It is hard to get data unless a person can visit in person and talk. It was a John Hutto who went to Alabama that the lady in Hattiesburg, Miss wants me to trace for her but he was too young to have been the John, son of Henry #6.

With all good wishes to you and your family, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

ABOUT THE AUTHOR OF THIS BOOK

Writer was born November 6, 1896 in Orangeburg county on the Ninety Six road twenty miles west of Orangeburg where the first family settled. My father was George Washington Hutto and my mother was Mary Williams. My grand-father was James Hutto and my grand-mother was Mahalia Bell. My great grand-father was James Hutto and my great grand-mother's name was Nancy, her maiden name is not known. My father and mother, my grand-father and grand-mother are buried in the Hutto cemetery on grand-father's old farm. My great grand-father and great grand-mother are buried in the Rocky Swamp Methodist church cemetery. 1860 Cornelious and Isabella Hutto gave an acre of land for this church building to be erected on. I am of the opinion this cemetery is much older, since my great grand-father was buried there in 1852. Military records record that Cornelius Hutto was killed in the battle of Gettysburg in the war between the states. A good number of my Hutto kin is buried in this cemetery in unmarked graves. My wife was Elizabeth Inabnit and we have one son Edgar Jr. and one daughter Virginia Elizabeth. Edgar Jr. married Mary Atkinson of Moorestown, N. J. They reside in Merchantville, N. J. and have three daughters. Rebecca Ann (Becky) Virginia Christine (Chris) and Barbara Carol. Virginia Elizabeth married Dorset R. Rickborn of St. George and they reside in Columbia, South Carolina. They have two daughters Virginia Elizabeth (Beth) and Stacy Hutto, one son Reed Dorset. The writer has been associated with the Southern Railway for 45 years, serving as local agent at various points on the Charleston division. A member of the Baptist Church, Masonic Order, Lions Club, South Carolina Historical Society and the National Genealogy Society. My hobbies are genealogy and fishing. My research into the Hutto family has taken me over much of the United States, South America, Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Holland. I have not attempted to write a complete history or genealogy of the Hutto family dating from 1735-37 when Isaac Otto settled near Orangeburg on the banks of the Pon Pon (Edisto) river. I have endeavored to record a reasonable amount of historial data that might be of interest to the descendents. I have only listed in detail a few of the many families involved.

ORANGEBURG

In 1730, by royal authority eleven townships were laid off in square plats on sides of rivers in South Carolina, each containing 20,000 acres. They were designed to encourage settlement and the plan that each township would eventually become a Parish. The township that was first called Edisto, after it's settlement by German and Swiss in 1735, was changed to Orangeburg. Orangeburg was named for William, the Prince of Orange, who was the son-in-law of King George II of England. In 1768 an act was passed dividing the Provience of South Carolina into seven judicial districts, or precincts. The third of these districts was called Orangeburg, The original district of Orangeburg contained all of the present counties, Orangeburg, Barnwell, Bamberg, Lexington, Calhoun and a large part of Aiken. Prior to the coming of the German and Swiss settlers, probably the first settlement made by a white man in the territory now embraced by Orangeburg county was made in what is now known as Lyons Creek in 1704, by Henry Sterling, an Indian trader. About 1719, Richard Heatley and his wife Mary moved with-in the present county of Orangeburg, and their son is said to have been the first white child born in this section. The few people who had settled in this section of the Provience, were English, Scotch and Irish. It is recorded that John Hearn lived just below where Orangeburg now stands in 1732. The Edisto river prior to the time of the coming of the white man to this area was known as the Pon Pon river, no doubt so named by the Indians.

ORANGEBURG SETTLED BY GERMAN AND SWISS

The German and Swiss settlers did not arrive at Orangeburg at the same time. The ship that brought the first settlers made it's way into the Charleston harbor Sunday July 26, 1735. Second group of settlers arrived a year later, and it was not until 1737, that the third group came. With this third group came the Rev. John Ulrich Gissendanner, from Switzerland, who became the first pastor of the first Luthern church in Orangeburg and the Carolinas. It is said that the Germans came from the lower Palatinate, or the Rhine and the Switzers came from the cantons of Bern, Zurick and the Grisons. After reaching Charleston by boat these settlers made their way from Charleston to their future homes at Orangeburg, a distance of eighty miles. It is recorded that some of these emigrants from the Palatinate and Switzerland, being very poor, they were obliged to sell themselves and their children for their passage which was six Pistoles in gold per head within a fortnight of their arrival, or else to pay one Pistole more to be carried on to Philadelphia. It is also said that the ships brought these settlers over to Carolina Province, returned with a load of Carolina rice. Like most of these early German and Swiss of America, these colonist came to Carolina not as gentlemen, or traders, but as tillers of the soil with honest intentions to earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. These settlers were thrifty and frugal. They soon secured a compency and independence for themselves and their children, tilling the fertile soil in and around Orangeburg. The first settlers clusterd together near the banks of the Edisto river. They built houses near each other and formed a small village. The present city of Orangeburg is located near the spot where the original German and Swiss village stood. In this village the first Luthern church in the Carolinas was built. The church buliding was built of clay and wood and was about 30 feet by 50 feet.

The Rev. John Ulrich Gissendanner who came with the third installment of German and Swiss settlers in 1737, came from Switzerland and was the first pastor of this Luthern church in the Carolinas. There is on record in Switzerland a letter that the Rev. Gissendanner wrote to some of his friends shortly after his arrival in Orangeburg. It is recorded that the Rev. Gissendanner on November 15, 1737 married his housekeeper who had made the journey over on the ship with him from Switzerland. Some half mile from the center of the city of Orangeburg towards the Edisto river, is a cemetery where many of these early German and Swiss settlers are buried. No doubt the remains of the Rev. John Ulrich Gissendanner, the first Luthern pastor in the Carolinas is buried. We are greatly indebted to the Rev. John Ulrich Gissendanner and his successor, a nephew, the Rev. John Gissendanner for the information they left to posterty in the dairy they kept in German starting in 1737 through 1761, with several breaks. They recorded the marriages, births and deaths of these German and Switzers.

JOURNEY FROM THE PALATINATE TO CAROLINA

The journey to Carolina was to the port of Charleston, fell in three parts. The first part, and by no means the easiest, was the journey down the Rhine river to Rotterdam or some other port in Holland. This journey lasts from the beginning of May to the end of October, fully half a year, amid such hardships as no one is able to discribe adequately, misery. In this particular situation the Rhine boats from Heilbronn to Holland had to pass by 26 custom houses, at all of which the ships are examined, which was done when it suited the convenience of the customhouse officials. In the meantime the ships with the passengers were detained so long that the passenger had to spend much of their money between Heilbronn and the Holland port. The trip down the Rhine lasted from four, five and even six weeks. When the ships arrived at a Holland port, they were detained there also for five or six weeks. Because things were very dear there, the poor people had to spend much of what they had during this long wait. The second stage of the journey was from Rotterdam to one of the English ports. Cowes and the Isle of Wight were the favorite stopping off places in England. In England there was another delay of one or two weeks, where the ships waited, either to be passed through the customhouse or waiting for favoriable winds. The third stage of the journey, or the ocean voyage proper, was marked with much suffering and hardships. The passengers were packed closely like herrings. The Reverend Mittleberger describes the voyage on the ship that he came over on from England to Philadelphia, without proper food, water and medicines. Many were soon subjected to all sorts of diseases, such as dysentery, scurvy, typhoid and smallpox. The children were the first to be attacked and died in large numbers. Reverend Mittleberger reported the death of thirty two children on his ship. He gives an example of an heavy gale on this particular day. A woman was giving birth and could not under the circumstances of the storm, was pushed through the porthole and dropped into the sea, because she was far in the rear of the ship and could not be brought forward. The terrors of disease, brought about to a great extent by poor food and lack of good drinking water, were much aggravated by frequent storms through which the ship and passengers had to go through. The misery reached the climax when a gale would rage for two or three days and nights and every one on board ship expected it to go to the bottom with all human beings on board. In such a crisis the people would cry and pray most piteously, when in such a gale, the sea raging and surging, the waves would rise like a mountain one above the other and often tumble over the ship. As the ship was constantly tossed from side to side by the storm and waves. The people could neither walk, sit or lie. They were so closely packed in their berths and with the violent wind waves, the sick and well were tumbled over each other. Under the conditions that they had to endure and the hardships that they went through, it is amazing how the large number of these early emigrants from Europe lived to reach the American shores.

"PALATINATE"

One definition of the word Palatinate, is a land of palaces. Palatinate the name of two German states united before 1623. They were called Upper and Lower Palatinate, the Upper being what is the kingdom of Bavaria, and the Lower lying on both sides of the Rhine and bounded by Mainz, Treves, Lorraine, Alsace, Baden and Wurttenberg. The capital was Heildelberg. The Renish Palatinate was established as an hereditary possession, as early as the eleventh century and in 1216 it was granted to the Duke of Bavaria, and this and the Bavarian territory were held by the Bavarians house. In 1559 the Renish territory and the electorial vote passed to Fredrick III, afterwards to Fredrick V, and finally to his son. In 1801 France took possession of the western part and gave the eastern to Bavaria, Nassau, Hesses, Darmstadt. The left bank was restored to Germany in 1815, the larger part going to Bavaria, the rest being divided among other provinces.

SOBERNHEIM, GERMANY

Sobernheim is in South Germany, 5500 inhabitants, 152 meters above sea level. With a Felkebath and climatic health resort situated to the south of the Soon forest on the Nahe river, a small old city and one of the most significant health resorts. The place of operation of the nature-cure doctor Pastor Felke who for decades worked in Sobernheim, and here found his last resting place. Domicile of the the Felkebund (the Felke-union or club). In the city are the following places of interest. The Felke Memorial, Evangelical (Luthern) Church, a Gothic structure of the 14th century. Maltesian chapel and chapel of the Knights of St. John, medieval houses, ruins of the monastery of Disibodenberg (3 kilometers away).

OTTO

The name Otto in Germany is a familiar and prominent one. The following were emperors and German Kings. Otto I, or Otto the Great 912-73. Otto II, 955-83. Otto III, 980-1002. Otto IV, 1182-1218. Otto I, 1848-1916 King of Bavaria (1886-1913). Otto I, First King of the Hellenes (1832-62). Also Nikolaus August Otto. German engineer. He was co-inventor 1867 of an internal combustion engine and devised (1876) four-stroke Otto cycle, widely adopted for motors.

ISAAC "OTTO" HUTTO

Isaac Otto with his wife Maria Catherina and their children, along with other emigrants from the lower Palatinate on the Rhine River in Germany arrived in Charleston by boat and then made their way of eighty miles to a site on the Pon Pon (Edisto) river near the present city of Orangeburg. This was to be their new home in Carolina. There were three contigents of these German and Switzer's who settled on the Pon Pon (Edisto) River near Orangeburg. The first contingent arrived at Charleston on the English ship, Oliver with Samuel Merchant as Master, in July 1735. All of these emigrants except forty five dis-embarged at Charleston. This ship continued on to Philadelphia and qualified there on August 26, 1735. Second contingent arrived in 1736, and the third in 1737. It is not certain which contingent Isaac Otto and his family arrived with. Isaac Otto, did not sit idle with his hands folded. He no doubt was a very industrious person. On March first 1743, King George the second of England granted him a Royal Grant of 350 acres of land on the Pon Pon (Edisto) River and one lot No. 282 of a half acre situated on Fenwick Street in Orangeburg. Isaac Otto, took an interest in the affairs of the community and the local Luthern Church. Rev. John Ulrich Gissendanner mentioned his name on several occasions in his dairy. Rev. Gissendanner came from Switzerland with the third contingent in 1737 and served as the first pastor of the local Luthern Church. Isaac Otto lived on his plantation near Orangeburg, some 15, 16 or 17 years after he arrived from Germany. An account of his death is recorded by the Rev. John Gissendanner.

ISAAC "OTTO" HUTTO

"On Monday August 17th 1752, was buried the body of Isaac Otto, a settler in this Township for several years past, who died suddenly on Saturday August 15th on the edge of the Path as he was going home and was found and taken up dead between his home and the town of Orangeburg. No mark of any fall or violence done him could be seen on his body. He left a wife and seven children, four of which are married. He was aged 57 years and buried at his own plantation. At the same time and place, and into the same grave was enterred the Grandchild of the late Isaac Otto, named Susannah, daughter of Charles and Ann Otto, who died on Monday morning after a fortnights illiness, aged one year."

Isaac Otto's widow Maria Catherina married Henry Mell, Tuesday April 24, 1753. It is stated that Isaac Otto's age was 57 at time of his death. This being the case he would have been born in 1697. It is also stated that he had seven children and four had married at the time of death on August 17th, 1752. We find where Anna married Peter Griffith on May 25, 1742. Sarah married Leonard Varnedore, no date shown. Charles married Ann T[illegible]hudy, no date shown. Peter married Margaret Barbara Shuler, no date shown. This diary was discontinued after 1761 at death of Rev. John Gissendanner. In the research that I have made in Germany, I have not as yet been able to find the birthplace of Isaac Otto and his wife. Our researcher is of the opinion that he came from the Otto clan in Staudernheim and Sobernheim in the Palatinate. We are of the opinion that the Hutto family which is to be found in many parts of the United States are descendants of Isaac Otto and his wife Maria Catherina who settled on the Pon Pon (Edisto) river near Orangeburg in the period of 1735-37. In every case in our research of the family in the various parts of the country, we are told that they were originally from either Orangeburg or Barnwell counties in South Carolina. Barnwell county is a part of the original Orangeburg District.

HUTTO

The name was originally Otto in the German as recorded in Rev. Gissendanner's diary. In 1755 we find where a land transfer was made and the name was written Hutto. This was the first time it was so spelled and in most cases since that time it has been the accepted or correct way of spelling the name Hutto.

LOCATION OF ISAAC HUTTO'S PLANTATION

In the Royal grant of 350 acres land and one lot No.282 in the town of Orangeburg, on Fenwick street dated March first 1743. The plat shows that this land was on the north-east side of the Pon Pon (Edisto) river. On the south-west it was adjacent to the Pon Pon River. It also adjoined land which had been layed out or granted to John Rote (Rowe) Casper Miller and Ludwick Linder. On February first 1771 Isaac, Jacob and Benjamin Hutto executed an instrument in writing leasing this 350 acres of land to George McMichael. This document was signed by Isaac and Ann Hutto, also Benjamin and Susanna Hutto and Jacob Hutto. This would indicate that Benjamin Hutto was a bachelor at that time. It would also indicate that this land had passed down from the original grantor Isaac Otto to his grand-sons. My investigation would indicate that this property is located on the south-east side of the city of Orangeburg and extends from the Edisto river on the south-west side to the north-east side across the Southern Railway to U. S. Highway No. 21 and the present Orangeburg airport is located on a part of this property. I have already shown that this property was leased to one George McMichael in 1771. I had an occassion in 1920 to visit a Mister McMichael on his farm and at the time of my visit he was cultivating land which I have described. I am of the opinion that this property has been in the McMichael family since it was acquired by lease in 1771 from the descendants of Isaac (Otto) Hutto.

HUTTO LAND MARKS

On a map of a survey made by B. Busby in 1820 of Orangeburg District. In the western part of the district near the present Orangeburg and Aiken county lines. Mr. Busby identifies the Hutto Tavern, as being located on the Ninety Six road. In our research we have not been able to find out which one of the Hutto family owned and operated this Tavern.

In the eastern part of Orangeburg District near the line of Orangeburg and Colleton county lines Mr. Busby identifies another land mark. David Hutto's place. This is a point on highway No. 176 about two miles west of Wells Cross Roads, in what is generally known as the Providence community, near Providence Methodist Church. This particular area comprises some of the choicest farm land in Orangeburg County. The descendants of David Hutto are still in possession of the original farm and have added considerable acreage to their holding of this rich farm land. David Hutto's descendants are a very closely knit clan. They are industrious, progressive and are among the most successful farmers and business leaders of Coastal South Carolina.

GRANDMA HUTTO AND HER SAILOR SON OLIVER

The Yearling by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings. In this classic story of the Baxter family of inland Florida who lived along the banks of the St. Johns River. Included in this classic story are Grandma Hutto and her sailor son Oliver. It appears that the Hutto's lived on the banks of the St. Johns River at Hutto's landing. We have made an inquiry of the address of this classic story to find out something about this fictional Hutto family who resided at Hutto's landing on the banks of the St. Johns River. The Publisher of The Yearling, advises me that the author has recently passed away.

ROCKY SWAMP METHODIST CHURCH

Rocky Swamp Methodist Church is located on south side of highway between Neeces and. Springfield, in upper southwest part of Orangeburg county. About 1860, one acre of land was donated by Cornelius and Isabella Hutto. With the stipulation that the trustees, or their successors shall build or cause to be erected a house, or place to worship, for the use of the members of the Methodist Epispocal Church. The following trustees were named. Charles Steverson, Gideon Hutto, Robert Argoe, Hugh Phillips and Henry Judy. Military records show that Gideon Hutto was killed in action at the battle of Gettysburg. Good number of the Hutto family are buried in the cemetery adjacent to the church.

INDIANA HUTTO'S

Eugene Hutto of Kokomo, Indiana, has furnished the following information about the Hutto family in Indiana. Indiana Hutto's are descendents of William Hutto and his wife Amelia Murchey. Amelia Murchey, born Orangeburg District, South Carolina in 1781. Died March 8, 1865. Buried in Richardson cemetery, Sharpsville, Indiana.

Legend one. William Hutto and his wife Amelia Murchey, left Orangeburg, South Carolina, in 1799. Settled in Scott county, Indiana Territory, in 1803. Built a water mill on Hutto Creek. Operated mill a short time, a flood washed it away in 1811. He and his wife went in search of a cousin near Fort Vincennes, Indiana Territory. They arrived a few days after the cousin had been massacred by the Indians. They stayed in the Fort a while for protection, where their son David was born in 1811. They returned to Scott County, Indiana. Then moved to Johnson county, Indiana in 1820.

Legend two. William Hutto, moved to Indiana, Territory from Orangeburg, South Carolina. In 1803 and settled in the South part near Fort Vincennes. In 1804 he with his family went to Fort Vincennes. In 1804 he with his family went to Fort Vincennes, to visit a cousin. They arrived a few days after the cousin had been killed in the massacre of Fort Vincennes by the Indians. They then took shelter from the Indians, in the Fort where their son David was born. Leaving the Fort they settled on the Muscatatuck river at the inter-section of Jackson, Scott and Washington counties. Here they had a water mill. High water soon destroyed the mill. They then moved to Johnson county, near Trafalgar, Indiana. Some time between 1820 and 1830. He and his son David returned to South Carolina, to settle his fathers estate. One of the things that he received as his share in the estate was a Carriage. He returned to Indiana, with the Carriage. It is said to have been the first Carriage in Indiana.

Do make and ordain this, my last will and testament. That is to say, principally and first of all. I give and recommend my soul into the hand of Almighty God, that gave it and my body, I recommend to the Earth to be buried in a decent Christian burial, at the discretion of my executors. Nothing doubting but at the general resurrection, I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God, and as touching such worldly estate wherewith it has pleased God to bless me in this life. I give an demise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form—First, I give and bequeath to Ann, my dearly beloved wife, all my worldly estate, both real and personal, by her freely to be possessed and enjoyed during the term of her natural life and at her decease, equally to be divided amongst my children. I do also constitute, make and ordain Ann, my dearly beloved wife, Executrix, and William Hutto, my son, Executor of this, my last will and testament, whom I desire may first of all, pay off my debts and also collect in such debts as are due to me. And I do hereby utterly disallow, revoke and dis-annul all and every other former testament, wills, legacies, bequests and executors by me in any wise before named willed and bequeathed, ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament. In witness, whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and Seal this twenty seventh day of August, one thousand eight hundred seventeen —

Signed, sealed published, pronounced and declared by the said Henry Hutto as his last will and testament in the presence of us who in his presence of and in the presence of each other have hereto subscribed our names two words interlined before assignment.

HUTTO'S IN TEXAS

R. B. Hutto, a prosperous young farmer of Hutto, Williamson County, is a son of J. E. Hutto, a pioneer of Texas. James E. Hutto, son of John Castleberry and Nancy Holliday Hutto, born June 8, 1824, in Greenville, South Carolina. James with his family moved to Madison County, Alabama. Nancy Holliday Hutto, died in 1836. James Hutto lived in Alabama until 1847. At the age of 23 he moved to Texas. Upon his arrival in Texas in 1847 he engaged in farming and stock raising in Travis County. About 1855 he moved to Williamson County, settling near where Hutto has since been built, this town having been named in honor of him. Here for twenty years between 1855 and 1875, he was one of the wealthy cattle men of this section of the country. He continued to reside here until 1885, when he took up his residence in Waco, Texas, where he is now engaged in the hardware business. He was in the Confederate army three years. It was not until after he came to this state that he married, the lady of his choice being Miss Margaret Hughes, of Alabama. They have had the following children: J. R. a gin man of Hutto; J. E. a prosperous farmer of Williamson County; W. T., C. W., R. B., H. E., Ellen, who married J. S. Monday, Nettie, who married J. A. Blanton, and an infant that died at the age of three years. James E. Hutto, died in Waco, Texas and was past ninety years old when he died. R. B. Hutto was born in Williamson County, Texas, August 31, 1857. He grew up on his father's ranch and assisted in caring for his father's cattle until he reach majority. He then launched out in the cattle business for himself, in which he was engaged for nine years, and at the end of that time disposed of his cattle interest for $25,000.

He then invested in farm property near Hutto, and now gives his chief attention to the raising of cotton, making an occasional trade.

He is cultivating 350 acres of his 700 acre tract. His cotton crop 1892 amounted to 132 bales. March 13, 1885, Mr. Hutto married Alice, daughter of Albert Barker. The other children in the Barker family are Jessie, Gus, Calvin, Ollie, Benjamin and Katie. Mr. and Mrs. Hutto have three children. Willie, born in 1886, Jessie, in 1889 and May, in 1892. Mr. Hutto's success is attributed to his great energy, backed by good judgment, a combination not common to a great majority of our business men. R. B. Hutto died May 30, 1944, at age of 86 years. His wife is also dead. His daughter Mae, married Sid Miller. Sid Miller died Jan. 17, 1952. Mae Hutto Miller was still living in Hutto, Texas, July 3, 1956.

(Information on the Hutto's in Texas was secured from Mrs. Mae Hutto Miller, of Hutto, Texas and from the History of Texas.)

VARNADO- HUTTO, South Carolina

Want to correspond with anyone having data on Varnado, Varedoe, Varnadore, Vanadore, etc. All persons bearing these names are descendents of Leonard Varnado and Sarah Hutto, who were married in 1742 by Rev. John Geissendanner in the Old Orangeburg Lutheran Church, Orangeburg, S.C. Will exchange data. H.D. Varnado, 425 East Hamilton St., Jackson 2, Miss.

Want to know the location of the original homesite of the Hutto and Varnado families in the Orangeburg District of South Carolina? Can anyone verify the tradition that the original Hutto homesite is in the Four Pines Community, near Neeces, S.C., or did the elder Isaac Hutto live in Orangeburg Township proper? Leonard Varnadore lived "in the forks of the Edisto River" along with Christian Minnick, Gavin Pou, William Young, Thomas Jones, and Jossph Russell. Where was his homesite? H.D. Varnado 425 E. Hamilton, Jackson 2, Miss.

HUTTO COAT OF ARMS- From copy of painting owned by the family.

Hutto (also Huttow, Houteau, Hutton, Houtto and Otto) Swiss-German origin, ARMS: ermine three bars gules, on a quarter azure between four Pheons or a cross engrailed argent.

CREST: Whale's head erect and erased Azure, gored with a mural crown or, theron three pellets. A chain and ring or. No motto.

This distinguished old family of Hutto were of Swiss-German ancestryand came to this country along with hundreds of others who were seeking freedom in religiln and new opportunities. They were a family of high standing and when the arms was granted many hundreds of years earlier the ermine showed a connection with the nobility. Ermine represented the fur worn by kings and was pictured as a silver background with black fur spots. The bars (like a fesse, or band across the middle of the shield) represented the military belt of girlde given for rank or honor in the services of the country. The cross had a religious significance and often meant a crusader to the Holy Land. The pheon, or arrow head, showed a valient and able fighter. The Whale's head would indicate interest at sea, and perhaps income derived from such an industry. The crown around the neck of the whale showed a connection with the nobility also.

COLORS: Gules (red) denoted military fortitude. Azure (blue) truth and sincerity. Or (gold) stainless honor. Argent (silver) purity and constancy.

Mrs. Doris Green
1700 Robinson St.
Natchez, Miss.

Dear Doris:

I am enclosing the June 1955 issue of Our Family Tree, the magazine formerly published by Mrs. Avanell Glade of San Jose, California, which carries on the cover a replica of the Hutto coat of arms as reproduced by Mrs. Glade or one of her associates.

Only three issues of this magazine were published. The first issue, which I did not receive, was an introductory number; the second, which I did receive, contained an advertisement over my name requesting information on Hutto and Varnado families, which Mrs. Glade herself inserted. The third issue, which I am enclosing, is the one in which Mrs. Glade and I shot the works in an attempt to obtain additional information on our families. A fourth issue was planned, but there was apparently too much work involved to make it worth the effort, so she dropped the idea. She wrote me at one time that her home and housework were suffering from genealogy-itis, and that one of them had to go, so I guess genealogy went.

I am also enclosing a letter from Mrs. Glade, at the bottom of which she has copied a description of the Hutto coat of arms from Burke's Manual of Heraldry, which she states was sent her by someone in South Carolina. All of Burke's books on Heraldry, and many others, are of course in the Dept. of Archives in Jackson.

At a later date Mrs. Glade also sent me a reproduction in color of the Hutto coat of arms which her husband had done in crayon, but although I have searched an hour, I am unable to locate it. I am wondering if I gave it to you to copy the last time you were here? If not, I will try to locate it and send it to you later.

The Hutto genealogy is in the same boat as the Varnado line. There is one complete generation missing as a result of the burning of the Orangeburg County courthouse. Even so, it is doubtful that all information necessary to establish a continuous line of descent was to be found at the courthouse. I have found that the early Varnados left no wills, that is, they were not notarized and recorded as legal documents. If they left any wills, they were informal bequests to their heirs which were handled entirely within the families; otherwise, when the head of a family died, his personal belongings were divided among the other members of the family or sold at public auction.

Other than being curious about the origin of the Hutto family and obtaining any Varnado information which they might have, I have felt that it was a waste of time and effort to run out their lines. They are as thick as the Varnados in some areas, particularly South Caroline, Georgia, south Alabama, and southeast Mississippi.

I went home for Christmas but did not have an opportunity to get over to Franklinton for a look at the William Frank Varnado Bible.

With sincere best wishes for a happy New Year,

Cordially yours,

Harrell

Dear Mr. Varnado:

In regard to the Hutto coat of arms. The description (enclosed) was sent to me by Mrs. C. F. Miller, 566 Glover St, Orangeburg, So. Carolina. However, since my first correspondance to you I sent this description to a lady that does coat of arms (to have one made up for me) and she sent it back for further information. I understand that Mrs, Miller had one made up. Mrs. Miller in 1950, was about 74 years old. I have not heard from her since. Although, at this date I am writing to her in regard to this coat of arms.

I only have a few minutes at this time but will keep you in mind when I get my Hutto data completed. I do want to keep up the correspondance with you and hope to have more information next tiem.

Sincerely yours,

HUTTO COAT OF ARMS - Burke Heralty

history of the family will be found. With her family she is attached to the Baptist Church. The children born to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are: Lena, who is now deceased; David; Florence; Charles, deceased; Clem; Peter; Berta; Milton; William and Theosophis, known as "Sid."

R. B. HUTTO, a prosperous young farmer of Hutto, Williamson county, is a son of J. E. Hutto, a pioneer of Texas. J. E. Hutto was born in Alabama, June 8, 1824, and was reared on a farm in his native State. Upon his arrival in Texas in 1847 he engaged in farming and stock-raising in Travis county. About 1855 he moved to Williamson county, settling near where Hutto has since been built, this town having been named in honor of him. Here for twenty years, between 1855 and 1875, he was one of the wealthy cattle-men of this section of the country. He continued to reside here until 1885, when he took up his residence in Waco, Texas, where he is now engaged in the hardware business. He was in the Confederate army three years. It was not until after he came to this State that he was married, the lady of his choice being Miss Margaret Hughes, of Alabama. They have had the following named children: J. R., a gin man of Hutto; J. E., a prosperous farmer of Williamson county; W. T.; C.W.; R. B.; H. E.; Ellen, who married J. S. Monday; Nettie, who married J. A. Blanton; and an infant that died at the age of three years.

R. B. Hutto was born in Williamson county, Texas, August 31, 1857. He grew up on his father's ranch and assisted in caring for his father's cattle until he reached his majority. He then launched out in the cattle business for himself, in which he was engaged for nine years, and at the end of that time disposed of his cattle interests for $25,000. He then invested in farm property near Hutto, and now gives his chief attention to the raising of cotton, making an occasional trade. He is cultivating 350 acres of his 700-acre tract. His cotton crop in 1892 amounted to 132 bales.

March 13, 1885, Mr. Hutto married Alice, daughter of Albert Barker. The other children in the Barker family are Jesse, Gus, Calvin, Ollie, Benjamin and Katie. Mr. and Mrs. Hutto have three children: Willis, born in 1886; Jessie, in 1889, and May, in 1892.

Mr. Hutto's success is attributed to his great energy, backed by good judgment, a combination not common to a great majority of our business men.

JOSEPH MELASKEY, one of the pioneer merchants of Taylor, was born in Russia in 1851, a son of Mendal and Jennie (Brownie) Melaskey. Our subject received his education in Hebrew, being what is commonly called a Jew, or Israelite. He came to America at the age of twenty years, landed in the city of New Orleans, and then came as a steerage passenger to Galveston, Texas. Mr. Melaskey was then without money, and suffered much for proper food. While in that city he met a Mr. Blum, who gave him $25 and sent him to his uncle, B. Melaskey, at Austin. After remaining there one month our subject began selling water-melons, peaches, etc., in front of his uncle's store, and in one month made as high as $200. His uncle then gave him a team of horses, a light wagon, and a stock of goods, and Mr. Melaskey was engaged as a traveling sales-

HUTTO FAMILY RESEARCH

The Huttos in South Carolina, and from all indications throughout the country, originate from one pioneer immigrant. Isaac Hotto (1695-1752) petitioned for a grant of 350 acres on February 22, 1739. Evidence points to his arrival in Charleston in July 1735 on the ship Oliver, nine weeks out of Rotterdam. The ship carried "about 200 Palatines, most of them being poor". They paid their passage by selling themselves and their children into indenture. With Isaac were his wife Maria Catherina and at least four children. They were Anna, born about 1723, Charles (1724), Sarah (1726), and Peter (1727). Three other sons survived Isaac when he died in 1752-Jacob born in 1737, and Isaac and Benjamin who were born after February 1739.

The Huttos have traditionally regarded themselves as German, and this is probably correct. "Palatines" refers to inhabitants of the Electoral Palatinate of the Rhine, an area located in the present day west central Germany. However, in the 1700's, the term Palatine was used to refer indiscriminatly to German immigrants generally. Efforts to locate the roots of the family in Germany have produced no results to date.

The Hutto family's period of indenture gave them the opportunity to learn English and adapt to the customs of the colony. When they set out to the 350 acres of land six miles west of the small village of Orangeburg, they received tools and some provisions from the royal government. Settlement of the Orangeburg Township had not really gotten under way until 1735, and the Huttos found their neighbors to be other Germans and Swiss with whom they easily assimilated. The most fortunate circumstance was the presence of the Rev. John Ulrick Geissandanner. He had assumed the Lutheran ministry in 1738 when his uncle, the Rev. John Geissandanner, a lively Swiss cleric, had died. The younger Geissandanner, who was ordained an Episcopal minister after spending most of 1749 in England, kept a record of baptisms, marriages and deaths of his congregations. Without this careful record, the beginnings of the Hutto clan would be virtually unknown. And because Sherman's army burned the Orangeburg court house, only a few of the present Hutto lines have been carried back to the children and grandchildren of Isaac and Maria Catherina. Rev. Geissendanner spelled the name "Hottow", "Ottow" and "Huttow". There are frequent references to them. Rev. Geissendanner died in 1761.

Isaac died from causes unknown as he was returning alone from Orangeburg on the path to his farm on August 15, 1752. He was 57. He was "buryed at his own Plantation." On April 24, 1753, Maria Catherina married Henry Mell. A month later Henry Mill appeared as a witness at the baptism of John Henry Hutto, a son born to Henry's stepson Charles. The Mells continued to appear in Geissendanner's record as late as 1758.

Charles Hutto, the oldest son, inherited the 350 acres by right of primogeniture. In 1755, he sold the farm to his three youngest brothers, Jacob, Isaac, Jr., and Benjamin, for 5 shillings. They sold the land to a George McMichael in 1770. Charles Hutto married Ann Tshudy (now Judy), and their known children are a son born in 1747, and sons John Henry (1753), Charles (1755), Isaac (1758) and Ulrick (1760). A daughter Susannah (1751) died August 17, 1752, and was burried with her grandfather the same day. Charles acquired a grant in the Four Holes Swamp area in 1762, and later land transactions indicate he and some of his descendants may have centered in this and the Providence area of Orangeburg County.

Peter married Margaret Barbara Shuler, and they had three sons recorded by Rev. Geissendanner - Isaac (1750), Henry (1752) and Martin (1755). There is no record of Peter beyond the Geissendanner book, but the Henry Hutto who settled on the Little Salkehatchie River and died in 1817 is believed to be Peter's son. Henry's descendants can be traced extensively. The names Henry, Martin, Peter and others appear in Georgia in the 1830 census.

Anna Hutto (1723) married Peter Grieffous (now Griffith) in 1742 and their recorded children were Thomas (1747), Ann Margaret (1750) and Catherine (1748). Catherine died in September 1752 and was burried beside her grandfather.

Sarah Hutto (1726) married Leonard Varnedoe - and Rev. Geissendanner recorded their children - Leonard Jr. (1750), Sarah (1752), Samuel (1754), and Anna (1758). Leonard received a grant on Rocky Creek Swamp in 1757. The descendants of Leonard and Sarah have been traced for the most part.

Jacob Hutto (1737) and his wife Margaret (who may have been a Tshudy and sister of Charle's wife) probably settled southeast of Orangeburg. There was a land grant to Jacob on Cow Castle Creek in 1772. A grant to an Isaac Hutto, "son of Jacob" in 1801 indicates Jacob had a son Isaac. Revolutionary War records indicate Jacob may have had a second wife Ann. An Ann Hutto died on August 19, 1851, age 90, who had married "during the year of the evacuation of Charleston" (1783) - possibly Jacob's widow.

Isaac Hutto Jr. was probably born about 1740. His wife, on the 1770 deed to George McMichael, was Anna. In 1767, Isaac, Jr. received a tract of land on Rocky Swamp Creek which lies between present day Neeses and Springfield in western Orangeburg County. Further land transactions in this area indicate he had a son Isaac, and a son Gideon.

Benjamin, the youngest son of Isaac the first and Maria Catherina, was probably born soon after Isaac, Jr. - for Maria Catherina's child bearing years would be running out. Benjamin too, moved westward and there is an indication that he received land near Rocky Swamp. This would have located him in the vicinity with his brother Isaac, and his sister Sarah Varnedoe. A Henry Mill, Jr. appeared in this same area which raises the possibility that Henry Mell and Maria Catherina settled in the Rocky Swamp section also.

Benjamin received a grant in 1787 on Giddy Swamp, a few miles further to the west and now part of Aiken County on the eastern outskirts of Wagener. A Benjamin who died during the Revolutionary War, according to one British record, was probably his son, and a later " Benjamin Jr." his grandson.

Large numbers of Huttos migrated and can be traced back to South Carolina including groups in Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Texas and Indiana. From these places they moved to other places and in this bicentennial year may be found the width and breadth of America, and the descendants of Isaac and Maria could number in excess of thirty thousand.

Land grants and transactions before and after the Revolutionary War shed some light on the early Huttos. A John Hutto received a grant in 1767; there was an early grant to a William. These were probably unrecorded sons of Charles or Peter. A Daniel Hutto was born in 1767, a David in 1787, who's descendants are known. Revolutionary War records, some church records and censuses add to the general knowledge. However, the plethora of Isaacs, Benjamins, Henrys, Daniels, Williams, Charles and on and on, make accurate analysis difficult, if not impossible. Knowledge of female descendants is in most cases in the early days, impossible. There seems to have been a predeliction to sons anyway. A number of people have and are continuing to gather information, and the final story is far from complete. There was for instance, a Bible known to exist in 1808 belonging at one time to Isaac, Jr. that included records of the Varnedoes, and probably other Huttos.

Behind these bare facts of the early Hutto pioneers lies many a story, some told, some incomplete, as indicated by the following doggerel:

Henry, Henry, Whig or Tory?
The D. A. R. sees you with glory,
But if we knew Dean Swamp's true story,
Would you be the Hutto of that day so gory?

And was Captain Robert Robinson, master of the Billander Oliver, murdered by some embittered "poor Palintine" who had lost his young children enroute from Rotterdam, or did the Captain merely fall overboard /unassisted into Charleston harbour? And I will leave it to the reader to guess which of Isaac's sons was convicted of horse stealing. No, he was not hung, just branded and lived to an old age, untainted by his youthful exploit.

Generally the Huttos worked hard, acquired property, prospered and were active in community and church, providing more than their share of ministers, especially among the Methodists.

Those wishing to add to the family genealogy are urged to contact the writer.

MISSISSIPPI

BAPTIST PREACHERS.

BY

L. S. FOSTER,

PASTOR OF SENATOBIA BAPTIST CHURCH,

SENATOBIA, MISSISSIPPI.

ST. LOUIS, MO.:
NATIONAL BAPTIST PUBLISHING COMPANY,
1895.

DEPARTMENT OF ARCHIVES & HISTORY
JACKSON, MISS.

1892, he took charge of the State mission work at the new town of Velasco, and during the year built the house of worship at that place. When the tide of fortune turned against the town, the people left, and the mission board suspended further appropriations, he was obliged to give up the work. In 1893 he divided his time between the church at Caldwell, Tex., and the Sunday-school normal work, which was a new feature in the Sunday-school work in Texas introduced by him through the Sunday-school Convention the year before. During the year the first Sunday-school Normal Assembly ever held by the Baptists of the State, was held at Dallas in his charge in June, immediately preceding the Sunday-school Convention. At Caldwell, the church debt of one thousand dollars was paid and the church raised to the level of taking a pastor's full time on a salary of twelve hundred dollars. At this writing (1894) he is devoting his time to Sunday-school normal work under appointment of the Executive Board of the Sunday-school Convention.

Of his last marriage there have been born two children, viz.: Tyra J. Nelson Tynes, born July 23, 1891, and Edurna Estelle Tynes, born October 26, 1893. During the years 1892, 1893 and 1894, while he was unsettled and traveling much of his time, his family lived in Washington county, most of the time in Brenham.

W. H. Varnado, a regular missionary Baptist preacher was very active in the ministry forty-five years of his life. During the last eight years of his life he was not so active, by reason of the infirmities of age, still he would preach and talk about the Bible as opportunity presented itself. He was loved and respected by all true Baptists. When he died his church had his biography prepared, and recommended the association to erect a monument at his grave, which was unanimously adopted by the Hobolochitto Association in October, 1893. He was born in South Carolina March 5, 1804; he died in Hancock county, Miss., July 28, 1893, and was buried by the side of his first wife, a large concourse of brethren and friends attending his burial. On the third Sunday in September, by urgent request his funeral was preached by the writer, to a large audience. His parents, with William at the age of five years, moved to Pike county, Miss., in 1809, on pack horses, the lad destined to be one of the pioneer Baptist preachers of South Mississippi. Here he grew to manhood; here he married his first wife, with whom he lived until all their children were grown, when the mother died. Some time later he was married to a lady of mature years and no children crowned the last marriage. At the age of thirty he professed religion and joined Mount Olive Baptist church, Pike county, Miss. Very soon after he had impressions of duty to preach the gospel, and went into this work with the determination, by God's help, to stick to it as long as he lived. With tears in his large blue eyes, and streaming down his cheeks, he would often say to the writer: "Brother Slaydon, I was almost ready to give up when the Lord gave you to me to help me fight for Jesus and his Word; then I remembered God's promise and took fresh courage." He would preach with great earnestness and vim, uncompromising in anything that would in the least injure the cause of truth. On the day of the writer's baptism, he remarked, "We are now securing strength sufficient to fearlessly pounce upon any rotten doctrine which comes along." He has often preached three hours at one time, and held the attention of his audience to the last word, who apparently desired to hear more from him. As preachers began to grow up—in the writer's early days the churches were very scarce—he would have them all attend the annual meetings in every church. In 1849 there were only three Baptist churches in all that section and Mr. Varnado was the instrument in God's hands in building them up. By order of Mount Olive Baptist church, Pike county, he was ordained to the full work of the ministry August 8, 1840, Revs. Jesse Crawford and William Y. Sanford, with Deacon William Simmons, acting as presbytery. From his ordination until his death was fifty-three years, less twenty days. He however exercised in public some time before receiving a formal license, and after being licensed preached a year or more, so that in all he was a preacher for sixty years—two generations. He is the father and grandfather of a large per cent of the Baptists of the Hobolochitto Baptist Association, numbering about twelve hundred members, besides of a large per cent of other associations west. One grand trait was his constant and firm adherence to Bible principles. Nothing could move him from the faith once for all delivered to the saints. He took the Old Testament teachings as a past type, we may say of the New Testament gospel, and every word said, or act performed, by our Savior was essential in its place and could not rightfully be overlooked or ignored by the true and faithful followers of Jesus Christ. The writer once went to a meeting with him at his own church of six days' duration. At the beginning of the meeting there were three Methodists to every two Baptists: at its conclusion there was only one Methodist left, and that was their preacher. It was in the days of slavery. The Methodist preacher had a woman slave, and she even joined the Baptists: the preacher himself being willing for her and all his flock to become Baptists. Many, yes, many, precious revivals has the writer passed through with this faithful minister, whose counsel he now so much misses, and whose absence he so much mourns. But, why should we mourn? He has gone to his reward, where sickness, sin and sorrow is felt and feared no more. Brother, rest until we, the peers of angels, meet you in that better world above to part no more. Amen.—A. M. Slaydon.

Ashley Vaughn lived, labored earnestly, ably and well in the Master's vineyard in Mississippi, and died upon her soil, yet it has been impossible to gather material from any known source to give a just view of this great and good man. He was one of the pioneer preachers whose record is above and whose biography is laid up in the archives of heaven. He lived in the Natchez country and in the city of Natchez in 1839, at the time of his death and we know not how many years previous. He was at the time pastor of the Natchez church. He was editor in 1837 of the first Baptist paper ever published in Mississippi, called the "Southwestern Luminary," which in February, 1838, was merged into the "Mobile Monitor and South-Western Luminary," edited by Rev. G. F. Heard, and published in Mobile, Ala. Beyond all question Mr. Vaughn was the father of the Mississippi Baptist State Convention. The suggestion to originate the present body thus known began in the Mississippi Association which passed resolutions in October, 1836, looking in this direction; and

There is another item in the Archives that Rev. William Henry called a meeting of the church stating that he hated to do it but he would be able to get along Much better if the Church would see fit to raise his present salary from TWENTY FIVE CENTS A DAY TO FIFTY CENTY A DAY. He had a Grist Mill on a small stream that he built himself but most of the grind was for free.)(The old Bed log of his dam is still found on the stream today)

Record was made in the book by Mrs.Agnes I(Beverly) Beard.

Cure for Cancer: 1 ounce of chloride of zinc granulated.Dissolve in water just enough water to dissolve and no more. -About 1 pt.-but begin with half pt and increase until dissolved.Take this solution and mix with just enough wheat flour to make a little plaster the size of the cancer.Change 4 times each day. The contact of the plaster is said to kill the cancer causing it to come loose from surrounding flesh.When out heal with any healing salve: Mutton suet is good. (Gotten from J.H.Beverly)

Remedy for Cancer: Half an ounce of sweet oil,half an ounce of mutton tallow,half an ounce of castile soap and half a teaspoonful of morphine. Melt the first three together,then add the morphine.Spread thickly on a cloth and apply to the cancer.A small one will out in 12 hours,but a large one will take 3 days.When the roots are all out,heal with mutton tallow.If the process is painful take a little morphine,always under a physicians directions.The plaster should be changed frequently,and it is said to be best not to make it too thick,so the drawing will be gradual,that the roots be not broken off.

Cough Syrup : Two table spoons honey-1/2 teaspoon alum,two tablespoons vinegar,small amount butter:tak as neccesary for cough.

Remedy for Pale Children : 1 qt vinegar,1 qt honey,30-20 penny nails square, 2 tablespoons black mustard,2 tablespoons elder bark or root,pulverized, 2 tablespoons star grass root,simmer down to 1 qt,takes 6 to 12 hrs.

VARNADO FAMILY

The first Varnado in this country of whom we know anything was Leonard Varnado. It appears he was in South Carolina as early as March 1736. In the month of March of that year Leonard Varnado was the "Patroon" of a boat belonging to Mr. William McKenzie, and one Shepheard was the "Patroon" of another belonging to the said McKenzie.

These men were employed to navigate these boats from the port of Charles Town in the Province of South Carolina to the mouth of the Savannah River and up said River to Savanna Town in the same Province, this Savanna Town being renamed New Windsor is not to be confused with Savannah, Georgia.

These boats having been loaded with merchandise at Charles Town, these Patroons proceeded on their way. The merchandise on the boat of which Shepheard was Patroon included four "Caggs" or rum, and the merchandise on the boat of which Leonard Varnado was Patroon included three hogsheads of rum. Upon arrival near the mouth of the Savannah River, but still in South Carolina, they were informed that if they went up the Savannah River with the rum they would run the risk of confiscation and maybe worse at the hands of the Georgia authorities, whereupon they took the pains of obtaining some sort of permit to transport merchandise up that river to another point in South Carolina, but there was no specific mention of rum.

After pushing their boats up the river as far as Savannah, Georgia, the rum was seized by the Georgia authorities, and the "Caggs" and hogsheads were "staved," and they were then permitted to leave at their pleasure.

Though South Carolina had been a Province bordering on the Savannah River for a long time, many years indeed before Georgia was chartered, the Governor of Georgia, Oglethorpe, conceived the idea that he had full jurisdiction over the whole of the river, and that under authority of an Act of Parliament, or maybe it was an "executive order" prohibiting the sale or transportation of rum, or like products, in the State of Georgia, he could stop the use of that river for the transportation of rum.

This incident became a matter of negotiation between the two Provinces, South Carolina complaining of the violation of its rights. In the course of these negotiations, which have been fully covered in a reprint or publication of the Journals of South Carolina, the name of Leonard Varnado appears frequently, the name appearing sometimes as Vernido and sometimes as Varnado. In another publication, "The Expansion of South Carolina," covering the period from 1735 to 1765, there appears on page 48 the following: "In 1744 a separate militia company of about thirty men was formed in this community (the Forks of the Edisto), on the petition of settlers who complained of the difficulty of attending militia musters," and it is found in the Council Journal, covering the period from December 17, 1743, to December 8, 1744, that on March 1, 1744, there was read in Council a petition signed by Leonard Varnado and six more subscribers, asking redress on account of the petty persecutions by the Captain of the Militia Unit. On page 49 of the same work where the author is still speaking of the Edisto River, we find the following: "Pou had one slave, and Minnick six and in the next five years applied on the rights of eleven others. There were four other applicants, among them Thomas Jones, cowkeeper, but whose lands were not taken up until 1757 and 1758." Following this statement there is a reference to footnote No. 26. In this footnote appears the name of Leonard Varnido and a further reference is there given to Salley's History of Orangeburg County, page 103. Examining this last reference we find that on page 103 of said History there is recorded the Baptism of a son of Leonard Warnedow and wife, Sarah Hutto Warnedow. Apparently Leonard Varnado was one of the applicants above referred to, and clearly the Leonard Varnado referred to was one and the same person as Warnedow in Salley's History. We know that Leonard Warnedow and wife Sarah Hutto Warnedow had a son named Samuel Varnado, who with his family settled in Mississippi sometime between 1809 and 1811. We know that Samuel Varnado acquired at least two tracts of land in Orangeburgh District, one in 1788, and one in 1793, and one of these tracts was located on Dry Branch, a tributary of the North Fork of the Edisto River, and lying within the forks of the Edisto River.

The following is on file in the Historical Commission of South Carolina; it is not signed as we have it, but no doubt the original was signed and verified:

> "A Memorial exhibited by Leonard Varnadeau to be registered in the office of his Majesty's Auditor General pursuant to the Acts of the Assembly in that case made and provided:
> Of a plantation or tract of land containing two hundred acres on a branch of the western fork of the Edisto River called Rock, Swamp in Colleton County, bounded on all sides by vacant lands, granted by his Majesty King George II, the first day of August 1758, unto this memorialist; at the quit rent of three shillings starting or four shillings proclamation money per hundred acres. In witness whereof he hath hereunto set his hand this the 18th day of January, 1759. Certified."

There was an advertisement dated in 1767 by Leonard Varnado that he had taken up a stray horse in the Forks of the Edisto.

There is enough of the foregoing to make it clear that the Varnados in South Carolina resided upon and within the Forks of the Edisto River.

Mississippi, and it appears that said George Varnado died the latter part of the year 1839 or the first part of the year 1840. The complete file covering the administration of this estate may be found in the office of the Clerk of the Chancery Court at Natchez, Mississippi, File No. 64. In January 1840 one Jeremiah H. Corey applied for appointment as collector of this estate, the application being filed in the Probate Court, which court then had jurisdiction in such matters. Shortly thereafter a petition signed by Leonard Varnadoe, Samuel Varnadoe, and Moses Varnadoe, in which they described themselves as the brothers of the deceased was filed. This petition asked the court to appoint Jeremiah H. Corey as the Administrator of the Estate. It will appear later that this Jeremiah H. Corey was a stepson of the deceased. Late in 1841 a petition was filed asking for a division of the slaves, of which there were some fifty odd, the petitioners describing themselves as the brothers and sisters, or the legal representatives of the heirs of the deceased, and this petition was signed by: Leonard Varnadoe, Nathaniel Varnadoe, Alfred B. Varnadoe by Nathaniel Varnadoe, Atty., and James Dougherty, and named as others entitled to participate in the estate, either as brothers and sisters of the deceased, or as legal representatives of the heirs of the deceased, the following: Moses Varnadoe, David Herlong, Alex K. Farrar, J. H. Corey, Charles Hughes, Harris Reeves, a minor, Sarah Amacker, and Adaline Sansom, and stated that the deceased died leaving no wife or children. Pursuant to this petition, the slaves were divided into nine shares, the slaves being named and valued, and these shares or lots were drawn for as follows: Lot 1, Nathaniel Varnadoe, Lot 2, Isham Varnadoe's heir, A. B. Varnadoe, Lot 3, Moses Varnadoe, Lot 4, Samuel Varnadoe, Lot 5, David Herlong and wife, Lot 6, the Heirs of Elizabeth Reeves, Lot 7, Leonard Varnadoe, Lot 8, Sally Amacker, and Lot 9, the Heirs of Arcadia Dougherty. As some of those named in the above petition for the divisionas entitled to participate are not expressly named in the allotment of the shares, we conclude that they must have been among the heirs of Elizabeth Reeves or the heirs of Arcadia Dougherty. Under the law then, as now, in this State, the rules of descent and distribution cast the estate, in the absence of a wife or descendants, upon the kindred of the whole blood to the exclusion of the half blood of the same degree, and as we know there were half brothers and sisters not mentioned in these proceedings, the necessary conclusion follows that those receiving the lots aforesaid were brothers and sisters of the whole blood, and that, inclusive of George, the deceased, there were the following whole brothers and sisters: Nathaniel, Leonard, Moses, George, Samuel, Isham, Elizabeth who married A Reeves, Mrs. David Herlong who was Mary Varnadoe, and Arcadia who married James Dougherty, and Sarah who married John Amacker, of whom Isham, Elizabeth and Arcadia had died prior to the administration of this estate.

We attempt now to account for the interest of as many as possible of those named as entitled to participate when the petition for the division of the slaves was filed, and who were not expressly mentioned in the drawing of the Lots. It appears that J. H. Corey was an assignee of Samuel James Madison Dougherty and as such stepped into the shoes of the said Dougherty, the assignment in this instance transferring all the title and interest of the said Dougherty in the estate of George Varnado, deceased, to the said Corey. We can assume then that Samuel James Madison Dougherty was a son of James Dougherty and his wife Arcadia Dougherty, and indeed this is said to be so by descendants of the Doughertys. The descendants referred to are of the opinion that this was the only child of Arcadia, but a careful examination of the record proves that this is not so. This James Dougherty married a second time one Caroline Lamb, and the Doughertys believe that the other children of James Dougherty were the children of this second wife; however, this does not appear to be true. There is on file in this estate a power of attorney executed by Isaac Nevies and Amanda Nevies appointing Nathaniel Hamilton as their agent and attorney in fact to handle their interest in this estate, and in this document this woman is described as "Late Amanda Dougherty, an heir of Arcadia Dougherty, late Arcadia Varnado, heir at law of George Varnado, deceased --- late of Adams County, Mississippi, now of Madison County, Illinois." This document was executed on October 20, 1849, and from it it would appear that Amanda was a daughter of Arcadia. A power of attorney executed by Henry Utt and Matilda Utt, dated December 19, 1842, appointing Nathaniel Hamilton as their agent and attorney in fact, in which Matilda is described as "Late Matilda Dougherty, and daughter of Arcadia Dougherty, who was Arcadia Varnadoe, and a sister of George Varnadoe, deceased," is on file in this Estate, and it is stated in this document that Matilda was at the time a resident of the County of Grant and Territory of "Wiskonson." By unequivocal statement she was a daughter of Arcadia Dougherty. Another power of attorney, dated December 5, 1842, was executed by Thomas Smirl and Euphemia Smirl, appointed Nathaniel Hamilton as their agent and attorney in fact, and Euphemia is described therein as: "Late Euphemia Dougherty and daughter of Arcadia Dougherty which was Arcadia Varnadoe and sister of George Varnadoe, deceased." It is clear then that Euphemia was a daughter of Arcadia. Dr. F. L. Beck of Cheyenne, Wyoming, is authority for the statement that Adaline Dougherty who married John W. Sansom was the daughter of James Dougherty, but he says the daughter of Caroline Lamb. However, she is named as one entitled to participate in the estate in the petition mentioned, and as the daughter of Caroline Lamb she would have had no interest in the estate. John W. Sansom signs several documents in the estate in one of which he signs "in right of his wife." So it would seem to follow necessarily that Adaline was a daughter of Arcadia. Said Dr. F. L. Beck says that another daughter, Mary, married the said Nathaniel Hamilton, and therefore probably older than Amanda above named, since he was Guardian for Amanda as will appear from the next document to be mentioned, and if so, it would follow that Mary was the daughter of Arcadia; making six in all as the children of Arcadia. On April 3, 1844, Nathaniel Hamilton executed a power of attorney appointing Wm. B. Fowles as his agent and attorney in fact to act, in the Estate of George Varnadoe, deceased, for him in the interest of Amanda Dougherty, for whom he describes himself as Guardian, and in the interest of Thomas Smirl and Euphemia Smirl, and Henry Utt and Matilda Utt, and endorsed on this document is a receipt reading in part as follows: "That he has received $98.20 from J. H. Corey, being the amount due the within named Amanda Dougherty on distribution of money in his hands, as per order of court, and being 1/6 of 1/9 of the money in his hands as administrator." As Arcadia's share of the Estate of George Varnado, deceased, was one ninth thereof, if one of her heirs received a 1/6 part of that share, then it follows that Arcadia had six children or heirs, as her husband would not have had a share unless George had died prior to the death of Arcadia. We conclude therefore that the children of Arcadia were: Samuel James Madison Dougherty, Mary Dougherty, Adaline Dougherty, Matilda Dougherty, Euphemia Dougherty, and Amanda Dougherty.

It cannot be determined quite so clearly who the children of Elizabeth Reeves were, nor do we know the name of her husband, whose name does not appear in the proceedings. He no doubt was deceased at that time. However, J. T. Evans appeared as Guardian of Harris Reeves, a minor, and it would seem that this Harris Reeves was a son of Elizabeth Varnadoe Reeves. J. T. Evans also appeared "in right of his wife," and Charles Hughes appeared "in right of his wife." These wives probably were the daughters of Elizabeth.

All of those named in the petition mentioned as entitled to participate in the estate are accounted for except Alex K. Farrar. How he came in has not been determined, but an examination of the records further might disclose that he became the assignee of perhaps an heir of Elizabeth Reeves.

It having been noted that Sarah Varnadoe, who married John Amacker, is listed among those who received a share of the estate of George Varnado, deceased, and must therefore be considered as a whole sister of the others participating in said estate, and that Washington, whether a half or whole brother, died young, there remain of those mentioned by Iley A. Varnado, Agnes Lillard Varnado, or Catherine Cutrer, as of the half blood, the following: Henry, Clarissa, Pearl, Rachel, Wade and Mitchell. It has been determined that Wade and Mitchell were not the half brothers of the older group, and as it appears that Moses Varnado had sons by the name of Wade Hampton and Mitchell, these cannot be included among the children of Samuel Varnado, Sr. (See data from family Bible of Moses Varnado shown later in this paper). The father of this writer has told him of visits to his mother of Aunt Rachel and Uncle Joe Cutrer (this Rachel married Joseph Cutrer) and that his mother spoke of them as Uncle and Aunt. If this Rachel was a half sister of Samuel Varnado, Jr., it was correct for her to speak of them as Uncle and Aunt. As to Clarissa (Claricy) it seems clear that she was a half sister of Leonard and Samuel, Jr. An aunt by marriage of this writer says that this Claricy was her mother's mother, and that her mother always said that Samuel Varnado (Jr.) was her own uncle. We do not have any definite data as to Pearl and Henry, but there seems general agreement that they, as well as Rachel and Claricy, were the half sisters and brothers of Leonard and Samuel, Jr.

See p 52 + 76

We have endeavored in the foregoing to determine and name the members of that group of brothers and sisters who settled in Mississippi in 1809 and shortly thereafter. As a child, this writer heard the elders speak of the three brothers, Varnado, who came to Mississippi, evidently referring to Leonard Varnado, Moses Varnado, and Samuel Varnado, Jr., who settled near each other and near Osyka, Mississippi, in which area this writer was born and reared. There was never mention of any others. It will have been observed that some of the older ones would mention Leonard and Samuel Varnado, Jr., as whole brothers, and that they thought any others were of the half blood to them. It would be as amazing to them, as this writer found it to be, to learn that there were ten children of the group to which Leonard and Samuel, Jr., belonged. In the light of the record of the Administration of the Estate of George Varnadoe, deceased, it is most clear that the group consisted of ten members; and it otherwise appears that in addition to these there were four of the half blood to reach maturity.

It will be observed from what has been said that the name has been spelled in different ways in Mississippi, that is, Varnado, Varnadoe, and Varnadore. However, the name may be spelled, and wherever people of this name are dispersed in this country, it is believed that all of them descend from the original couple of whom we have any knowledge, that is from Leonhard Varnedow and Sarah Hutto Varnado, who were married by John Ulrick Giessendanner about 1745.

The early land and court records of Pike County, Mississippi, were destroyed by fire August 1, 1882, and we cannot refer to those records. Also the land and court records of Washington Parish, Louisiana, were completely destroyed in 1898.

The name was spelled Varnadore, at least by the Census taker in 1850, in listing those hereinafter named as living in Copiah County, Mississippi. The name was spelled Varnadoe in the record of the Estate of George Varnadoe, deceased, in Adams County, Mississippi, and indeed all Varnados whose names there appear and in their own handwriting as Varnadoe. There is on file in the office of the Clerk of the Chancery Court, Magnolia, Mississippi, a plat book of the lands in that county which undertakes to show the names of those to whom lands were Patented by the United States, and the name appears in nearly every instance as Varnadoe. The Administration of the Estate (Succession) of Wm. P. Varnadoe and wife, Rebecca Varnadoe, the record of which is on file in the office of the District Court Clerk, at Greensburg, Louisiana, in the year 1855, in which a number of Varnadoe names appear, shows all persons of that name signing any document spelling the name as Varnadoe, except the Administrator of the Estate, Hardy Varnado, who signed his name as Varnado. Doubtless it was about this time that the "e" was definitely dropped, though as far back as the Council Journals of South Carolina, and the letter of recommendation issued to Leonard and Moses Varnado, the name was spelled Varnado. For the most part people of this name everywhere spell the name Varnado, though there are some who continue to spell the name Varnadoe, or Varnadow. There is nothing in the record of the Estate of Wm. P. Varnadoe to indicate who Rebecca was. Some have said her name was Rebecca Amacker, (but see the copy of the family Bible of Moses Varnado later in this paper, where it appears her name was Rebecca Thompson, which doubtless is correct). The record does disclose that this couple left three heirs as follows: Hardy Varnado; Nancy, the wife of Warren Ricks of Washington Parish; and Samuel, a minor, and it further disclosed that the grandmother of Samuel, the minor, the son of Pearl, was Nancy Varnado of Washington Parish, Louisiana, who because of her age, declined the tutorship of this minor. From this one might jump at the conclusion that this grandmother was the mother of Wm. P. (Pearl) Varnadoe. However, it appears from the Bible of Moses Varnado that Pearl married Rebecca Thompson, whose mother was Nancy Varnado, Rebecca having been a child by a former marriage of Nancy Varnado, and this Nancy seems to have been the maternal grandmother, and not the paternal grandmother of the minor.

The effort of this writer has been directed mainly to ascertaining the early history of this family. He tabulates in the following pages information obtained in the course of this study. The tabulation is not comprehensive, that is, it is not brought down to current times, but believed to be accurate as far as it goes. To trace this family to all of its present representatives would entail a vast amount of work which this writer has not undertaken. He may be pardoned if he follows out his own line to the present time. He hopes that if this paper should come to the attention of others interested, information helpful to them may be found.

A similar paper was prepared several years ago, and in listing individuals named an attempt was made to so indicate each individual, the method of which he hopes will be apparent, that each may trace his line from the earliest couple named. This indicia will not be changed in any instance though it may now be known that the individuals named were not born in order given, but the date of birth of each, if known, will be stated.

V4. Samuel Varnedore, born February 15, 1754, died in or near St. Helena Parish, Louisiana, in 1837, said to have been married twice, and was the progenitor of the Varnados in Mississippi and Louisiana. Names of wives unknown, except one person at least has said that the second wife was a Herlong.

He had issue:

V4A. George Varnadoe of Adams County, Mississippi.
V4B. Nathaniel Varnadoe. Lived in Georgia.

V4Q. Washington Varnadoe. Died young, whether child of first or second wife not known.

V4A. George Varnadoe married Prudence Luce, the widow of Richard Corey, on March 12, 1811, in Adams County, Mississippi, as shown by the marriage records of that County. Prudence was the daughter of Israel Luce and wife, Deborah Swayze Luce. Deborah Swayze was the daughter of "Old Richard Swayze and Sarah Horton." Prudence had three children by her first husband: Jeremiah H. Corey, Sarah Corey, and Clarissa Corey. She had children by her second husband, George Varnadoe, but none of them lived to maturity or had issue. George Varnadoe died about January 1, 1840. Prudence, his wife, and his children by her, had already died. His estate was administered in Adams County, Mississippi, and Jeremiah H. Corey, stepson of George Varnadoe, was the Administrator. As George Varnadoe left no wife or descendant, his brothers and sisters inherited his estate, consisting of 1000 acres of land, some fifty odd slaves, included in inventory of personal estate, to the value of $29,000.00. He was a Trustee of the Kingston Church, and is no doubt buried near there.

In connection with this George Varnadoe, we have from a letter written by Henry B. Eaton of Edwardsville, Illinois, dated February 26, 1941, the following:
"I find the following in one of my grandfather's, the late Judge Henry King Eaton's, books: Deborah, daughter of said old Richard Swayze, married Israel Luce & had children, Sarah who married Gideon Hopkins, Prudence who married Richard Corey, and left children, Jeremiah-Sarah-and Clarissa. Corey dying, she married George Varnadoe by whom she had children who died without issue." Also: "Also I find in another place where it is written by the grandfather of mine: In the spring of 1832 my father went to Mississippi----Solomon Swayze, a cousin of my mother's and a Mr. George Varnadoe, who married a relation I think of my mother's, came up from Mississippi that spring and spent several weeks at my father's."

V4B. Nathaniel Varnadoe we learn from W. W. Varnadoe, Jr., who lived at the time in Atlanta, Georgia, married Ann T. Jones, and died in 1856, and is buried in the Midway Church Cemetery, in Georgia. We know of no descendants of this Nathaniel in Mississippi or Louisiana. It appears he did not come to Mississippi or Louisiana to settle. It will be observed that he did not sign the original petition for the appointment of the Administrator of the estate of George Varnadoe, deceased in 1840, but that he did sign the petition for the division of the slaves in 1841, nearly two years later. There was at that time a Nathaniel Varnadoe in Liberty County, Georgia, who it is said had a brother who came to Mississippi, and that on one occasion he came to Mississippi to visit that brother. In the opinion of this writer, the Nathaniel of Georgia is the Nathaniel of the Natchez record, and that the visit referred to was the time he came to Mississippi to claim his share of the estate of his brother, George Varnado, deceased. During the administration of that estate, Nathaniel Varnadoe as well as A. B. Varnadoe, the heir of Isham Varnadoe, for whom Nathaniel Varnadoe first appeared as attorney, were represented by Wm. B. Fowles as their agent and attorney in fact. And the fact that he lived in Georgia, and this visit having been made from Georgia, may be in part the basis of the belief of some that the Varnados came from Georgia. There are a number of Varnadoes in and about Valdosta, Georgia, and it is understood that Nathaniel of Georgia has many descendants in that State.

This writer will not undertake to name the descendants of this Nathaniel, except in a very limited way. One W. W. Varnadoe, then in Atlanta, Georgia, furnished a partial list of the descendants of Nathaniel Varnadoe of Georgia, their names being given with the spelling as Varnadoe. This writer will content himself with naming the children of this Nathaniel Varnadoe, and with showing how this

W. W. Varnadoe, Jr., comes down from the earliest Varnado about whom we know.

V4B1. Ann Caroline Varnadoe, born April 17, died Nov. 27, 1837.
V4B2. Leander Lewis Varnadoe, born 1829, died ____, married Ann E. Mallard Dec. 11, 1849.
V4B3. Nathaniel James Varnadoe, born 1830, died ____, married Mary A. Ladson March 28, 1850.
V4B4. Sarah Varnadoe, married Wm. Q. Baker.
V4B5. Louisa Varnadoe, married William Winn.
V4B6. Claudia Varnadoe married William Winn after death of Louisa.
V4B7. Matilda Varnadoe ,married Crawford and others.
V4B8. Anna Varnadoe ,married John Hunter.
V4B9. Rufus Alonzo Varnadoe (1834-1893), married Anna M. Rokenbaugh Nov. 18, 1857.

Said W. W. Varnadoe, Jr., gives his line as follows:

Leonard Varnadore, married Sarah Hutto, and had Samuel Varnadoe, born Feb. 15, 1754, married and had Nathaniel Varnadoe (1790-1858), who married Ann T. Jones and had Nathaniel J. Varnadoe, born 1830, married Mary A. Ladson, had William Nathaniel Varnadoe, born 7/26/1852, married Sarah J. Baggs, and had William Whitfield Varnadoe, born 7/18/1893, married Willie Harmon, and had
W. W. Varnadoe, Jr., born 6/11/1923, married Jo. Ann Rockwell.

The writer has known personally none of the above named, and it is understood that the list given is based upon information from said W. W. Varnadoe, Jr., and is only a very small part of his whole list, which indicated that the said Nathaniel Varnadoe (V4B) has many descendants indeed.

V4C. Isham Varnadoe. We have no record of any descendants of an Isham Varnadoe of this generation in Mississippi or Louisiana. Neither this name or that of his heir, Alfred B. Varnadoe, appears in the record of the administration of the Estate of George Varnadoe, deceased, until late in the year 1841, nearly two years after the petition for administration was filed, and the name Alfred B. Varnadoe is signed by Nathaniel Varnadoe as his attorney, which indicates that Alfred was then grown, otherwise Nathaniel should have signed as Guardian. It is the belief of this writer that Isham settled in Georgia instead of coming to Mississippi. There was an Isham Varnadoe or Varnedeau, who lived in Bryan County, Georgia, in 1827, as the records of Georgia show that he participated in a land lottery in that State in that year, and that he drew lot 120, in Lee County, Georgia, District 16; also in 1821 an Isham Varnedeau filed an affidavit setting up his right to participate in such lotteries, in which he stated that he was then a resident of Chatham County, Georgia, and that he had a wife and two children. It is the belief of this writer that Isham of Georgia was identical with the Isham of the Natchez record. However, we list only one child of our Isham:

V4C1. Alfred B. Varnadoe.

We are given some further information in regard to Isham Varnadoe, By W. W. Varnadoe, Jr., who says that he was born in 1801 and died between 1832 and 1840 and that he went to Chatham County, Georgia, in 1818. He lists no descendants of this Alfred Varnadoe, who he says married Dusilla Gill, and lists no further children of Isham Varnadoe, who he lists as the son of Samuel Varnadoe, Sr., and therefore a brother of Nathaniel. The statement that Isham was born in 1801 seems a little questionable, as in that case he was only 10 or 11 years of age when the others came to Mississippi, and one wonders why one so young was left behind. If Isham was born in 1801, and had a wife and two children when he made the affidavit above referred to in 1821, either of the two children could well have been 21 years of age during the administration of the estate of George Varnadoe, deceased, which was being administered late in 1841.

V4D. LEONARD VARNADO(E). This man was among the older children of his father, and was already married when he came to Mississippi. It is known that his first wife, the only one by whom he had children, was Rachel Shilling. The Shilling, or Schilling, name is frequently mentioned in the Giessendanner record. We have already seen that this man was 73 years of age in 1850, which places the year of his birth as 1777. He is said to have been married three times. In 1850 his wife was named Sarah, and in 1860 his wife was named Elizabeth; one of these was a McElveen, probably the latter. We know from a letter addressed to this writer by A. D. Miller, Executive Assistant to the Administrator, Veterans Bureau, Washington, D. C., dated January 6, 1940, that Leonard Varnado enlisted in Pike County, Mississippi, and served in the War of 1812, from January 6, 1813, to February 5, 1815, as Private in Captain Henry Quimm's Company of Mississippi, during which time he was stationed at Fordsville in Marion County, Mississippi Territory; that on November 22, 1850, he applied for bounty land under the Act of March 3, 1855, on account of his services in the War of 1812, at which time he stated his place of residence as Pike County, Mississippi, and gave his age as 80 years. This would indicate he was born in 1775. The applicant was identified by an affidavit of Lewis H. Varnado. In January 1857 Isham E. Varnado was a member of the Board of Police of Pike County, Mississippi, and the reason he is mentioned in the letter referred to is doubtless due to his having been the officer before whom Lewis H. Varnado made his affidavit. Lewis H. and Isham E. were the sons of Leonard Varnado, though this does not appear from the records of the Veterans Bureau. On page 811 of a work entitled "Mississippi the Heart of the South," by Dr. Dunbar Rowland, the name of Leonard Varnado is mentioned as having been a justice of the peace of Pike County about 1825. By his first wife, Rachel Shilling, he had the following children:

V4D1. William H. Varnado.
V4D2. Emanuel Varnado.
V4D3. Lewis H. Varnado.
V4D4. Isham E. Varnado.

V4D1. William H. Varnado, born March 5, 1804, died July 28, 1893. He was twice married, the first time to Frankie Schilling the only one by whom he had children. This writer is unable to name descendants except as follows this comment. In a work entitled "Mississippi Baptist Preachers" there is a short biography of this man, a Baptist Preacher, as follows: "William H. Varnado, a regular Missionary Baptist Preacher was very active in the ministry 45 years. During the last eight years he was not so active by reason of the infirmity of age. When he died his church had his biography prepared, and recommended the Association to erect a monument to his grave which was unanimously adopted by the Hobolochitto Association in October 1893. He was born in South Carolina March 5, 1804; he died July, 1893, and was buried by the side of his first wife. His parents with William at the age of five years moved to Pike County, Mississippi, 1809, on pack horses. Here he grew to manhood, married his first wife.--He professed religion, and joined the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Pike County, Mississippi. By order of the church he was ordained to the full work of the ministry August 8, 1840." This biography proceeds to say that the presbytery ordaining this minister was composed of Jesse Crawford, William Y. Sandford, and William Simmons.

This writer, born and reared in Pike County, Mississippi, had never known of a Mt. Olive Baptist Church in that county. There could have been one. This man was a charter member of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church in that county, which means that he was already a member of some church when the Mt. Zion Church was organized on July 28, 1838. The Minutes of said Mt. Zion Church for August 8, 1840, showed the following:

"August 8, 1840. After worship in the usual manner met in conference and opened a door for the reception of members. Received none. 2nd. Then took up the case of granting a license to Brother William H. Varnado to preach the Gospel of Christ, and after some deliberation thereon, resolved that he have license."

At the date of this Minute, Jesse Crawford was the pastor of the church, and the two deacons of the church were William Y. Sandifer and William Simmons. This Minute no doubt covers the action referred to in the biography, the dates being the same. A further Minute of the Mt. Zion Church for March 13, 1841, reads as follows:

"After worship in the usual manner met in conference, and opened the door for the reception of members. Received none. Then dismissed Brother William H. Varnado by letter as a licensed preacher."

There is no record in the Minutes of the Mt. Zion Church covering the ordination of this minister. He no doubt was later ordained. After leaving Mt. Zion Church he may have returned to the church, maybe Mt. Olive, where he first joined the church, and was there ordained, the Rev. Jesse Crawford, and Deacons William Y. Sandifer and William Simmons, being invited as the presbytery to conduct the ordination. However this may be, we can be assured that he was duly ordained somewhere, as he remained in the ministry many years, Baptizing the repentant, burying the dead, officiating at weddings, and serving as Pastor of churches.

We next pick up the trail of William H. Varnado in the Census of Washington Parish, Louisiana, for 1850, where he is listed as 45 years of age, a Baptist Clergyman, and as born in South Carolina. Later this man moved to Hancock County, Mississippi, where he became a legendary figure, and left many descendants.

This writer has visited the grave of this old preacher, a few miles from a place called Caesar which is close to the line between Pearl River County and Hancock County, in Mississippi, in a small cemetery which is well kept, and on the stone at the grave of William H. Varnado appears the following inscription:

"Sacred to the Memory of Rev. W. H. Varnado, born March 5, 1804, died July 15, 1893. The First Baptist Preacher known to preach in Hancock County, Miss. The great missionary to this county. He was a landmark Baptist, believing in and practiced the washing of the Saints' feet as taught by our Lord. Now sweetly he sleeps here alone after 53 years' labor in the Master's Vineyard, entering the work at 40 years of age. Died in his 91st year, but the Lord will raise him up at the last day."

The stone at the adjacent grave carried the following inscription.

"Mrs. Franky Varnado, wife of Rev. W. H. Varnado. Born February 9, 1805, died April 11, 1880. Here sleeps the faithful wife of W. H. Varnado, but her soul has gone to God."

The Census of 1850 covering the above W. H. Varnado, lists as his children the following:

V4D1A.	Lewis Patrick Varnado	21	Miss.
V4D1B.	Martha Varnado	18	"
V4D1C.	Rachel Varnado	15	"

According to Mrs. A. J. Bilbo, visited at Caesar, Lewis Patrick Varnado married Samantha Jones and she, Mrs. A. J. Bilbo, was their daughter. She stated that she had a brother, L. G. Varnado, a minister then living in Poplarville, Mississippi, and he has advised this writer that his grandmother, the first wife of Rev. William H. Varnado, was Frankie Shilling. The husband of Mrs. Bilbo was a brother of Senator Theo. G. Bilbo. Mrs. Bilbo also stated that Martha Varnado (V4D1B) married little Josh Stockstill, and that Rachel (V4D1C) married Freeman Lee, and that another daughter, Mary, also married a Stockstill. Many descendants of William H. Varnado live in Pearl River and Hancock Counties, Mississippi, but very few by the name of Varnado.

V4D2. Emanuel D. Varnado. This man was born Jan. 16, 1807, and in the State of South Carolina, and died Jan. 20, 1882, in Pike County, Mississippi. He married Sarah Simmons, the youngest child of Richard and Ann Tyler Simmons, born Jan. 4, 1814, 43 in 1850 in Miss 37 in 1850

V4E. ELIZABETH VARNADO, married a man by the name of Reeves, given name not known, and it is not known where they lived. We know nothing of her children, except it appears she had at least one child, Harris Reeves, who was a minor in 1841, when his name appears in the record of the estate of George Varnado, Deceased (V4A) as one entitled to participate in that estate. There were others mentioned as entitled to participate that cannot definitely be placed. We have already mentioned the possibility that the wife of Charles Hughes and the wife of J. T. Evans may have been daughters of this woman. A Mr. Reeves who was Clerk of the District Court of St. Helena Parish, Louisiana, said that his grandfather was named Harris Reeves, and a cousin of this Mr. Reeves who was a member of the Police Jury of Tangipahoa Parish, Louisiana, also said that his grandfather was named Harris Reeves. Whether these men were great grandchildren of Elizabeth Reeves cannot be stated with assurance, but seems probable. We say however that she had one child:

V4E1. Harris Reeves, the minor above referred to.

V4F. ARCADIA VARNADO married James Daugherty (or Dougharty) and died prior to 1840. Her heirs were awarded a one ninth share in the Estate of George Varnadoe, deceased (V4A), indicating she was a sister of George Varnadoe, deceased, and she is definitely referred to in the proceedings in that estate as a sister. In preceding pages we have covered the question of the identity of her heirs, and nothing can be added to that here. We say she had the following children:

V4F1. Samuel James Madison Dougherty.
V4F2. Adaline Dougherty, married John W. Sanson.
V4F3. Mary Dougherty, married Nathaniel Hamilton.
V4F4. Matilda Dougherty, married 1) Henry Utt, 2) George White.
V4F5. Euphemia Dougherty, married Thomas Smirl.
V4F6. Amanda Dougherty, married 1) Isaac Nevins, 2) John Campbell.

V4F1. Samuel James Madison Dougherty, born in 1810, married Elizabeth Cook, and died in Jersey County, Illinois. Children:

V4F1A. Joseph C. Dougherty.

V4F1B. Mary A. Dougherty.
V4F1C. James A. Dougherty, killed in action, Civil War.
V4F1D. Alexander F. Dougherty, died at four years of age.

J. H. Corey, who was a stepson of George Varnadoe, deceased, and who was the Administrator of his estate, was an assignee of the above mentioned Samuel James Madison Dougherty, who signed the bill of sale as Samuel J. Dougherty and transferred to J. H. Corey all of his right, title and interest in said estate. And this explains why the said Dougherty's interest passed to said Corey.

V4G. MOSES VARNADO. This Moses Varnado came to Mississippi Territory in 1809, and he and his brother, Leonard Varnado (V4D) were the two mentioned in the letter of recommendation given by the Judge of the Inferior Court of Jones County, Georgia, dated in October of that year. He is listed as a soldier in the War of 1812 from Mississippi. It appears that he was twice married, the name of his first wife being unknown. His second marriage was to Mrs. Nancy Thompson (nee Ward), which marriage occurred on the 2nd day of September, 1817. Moses Varnado was born February 16, 1781, and died in 1855. In his family Bible, now in the possession of one Odom McDaniel, there are listed seven persons of the name of Thompson, born from 1804 to 1813, inclusive, evidently the children of the widow he married by her first husband. There are listed six persons by the name of Varnadoe, evidently the children of Moses Varnado by his first wife. There are listed seven persons by the name of Varnadoe born from 1818 to 1830, inclusive, evidently the children of Moses Varnado by his second wife. The second wife was born the 22nd day of May, 1785.

It appears therefore that by his first wife, name not known, Moses Varnado had:

V4G1. Harriet Varnadoe, born April 6, 1806.
V4G2. Lark W. Varnadoe, born Nov. 7, 1807.
V4G3. Mitchel J. Varnadoe, born July 15, 1809.
V4G4. Wade H. Varnadoe, born Jan. 15, 1812.
V4G5. Alzada Varnadoe, born April 29, 1814.
V4G6. Lucinda Varnadoe, born July 1, 1815.

And it also appears that by his second, born Nancy Ward, he had:

V4G7. Nathaniel N. Varnadoe, born October 24, 1818.
V4G8. Clemensa O. Varnadoe, born Sept. 7, 1819.
V4G9. Amanda M. Varnadoe, born October 29, 1820.

V4G10. Samuel W. Varnadoe, born Dec. 3, 1821
V4G11. Clarenda N. Varnadoe, born Feb. 21, 1824.
V4G12. Moses R. Varnadoe, born Oct. 11, 1825.
V4G13. Delilah Lafayette Varnadoe, born Nov. 15, 1830.

Marriages listed in this Bible.

Moses Varnadoe and Nancy, his wife, married Sept. 2, 1817.
John Roberts and Mariah, his wife, married March 1821.
Joseph Cutrer and Hannah THOMPSON, his wife, married August 1825.
Richard J. Daniel and Alzada, his wife, married April 18, 1830.
Terrell Thompson and Elizabeth, his wife, married June 10, 1830.
Perl Varnadoe and Rebecca, his wife, married--- date not legible.

Of these women Mariah, Hannah, and Rebecca were Thompsons, and Alzada was a Varnadoe.

Of those listed as married were Mariah, Hannah, and Terrell, and persons of those names are listed in the Bible as Thompsons. Also there is a Rebecca Thompson listed. It would appear from the Bible record that it was this Rebecca who married Pearl Varnadoe, who obviously was one and the same person as Pearl, or William P. Varnadoe, whose estate, jointly with that of his wife, was administered in St. Helena Parish, Louisiana, in 1855. (See Succession papers at Greensburg, La.). In the proceedings of that administration, it is shown that there was one minor child of William Pearl Varnadoe and his wife, Rebecca, this minor child being named Samuel. It also appears in said proceedings that the grandmother of said minor, namely Nancy Varnadoe, of Washington Parish, declined the tutorship of this minor because of her advanced age. Before the above Bible data came to knowledge it had been believed that this Nancy Varnadoe was the mother of Pearl Varnadoe, and therefore that she was the widow of Samuel Varnadoe, Sr., the father of the group that came to Mississippi. It is now clear that this Nancy Varnadoe was the widow of Moses Varnadoe, and who had first married a Thompson and by her first husband had Rebecca Thompson who married Pearl Varnadoe, and was the maternal grandmother of the minor and not the paternal grandmother. It is understood that Pearl Varnadoe was a half brother of Moses Varnadoe, and if this is so, as believed, Pearl married the stepdaughter of his half brother, Pearl and Rebecca being unrelated to each other.

The data in the Bible of Moses Varnadoe affords authoritative information as to the parentage of Mitchel J. and Wade H. Varnadoe, about which matter there had been confusion in the past, though other evidence clearly pointed to the fact that they were the sons of Moses.

The Census of 1850 lists Moses Varnado and his wife and lists as members of his family: Clarenda McElveen aged 26, Sam McElveen aged 5, and Larena McElveen aged 2. This Clarenda was evidently the daughter of Moses Varnadoe who was born in 1824, and the same person listed in the Bible as Clarenda N. Varnadoe, and the McElveen children named were her children. She probably was widowed at the time and living with her children at the home of her parents. This Clarenda married the second time, John Simmons (son of Richard and Ann Tyler Simmons) and had by him two children, Fannie Simmons, who married John S. Varnado, and Clarenda Simmons, who married Leonard Varnado.

In the Mississippi Census of 1816 Moses Varnado is listed as a resident of Pike County, Mississippi. Later he lived in Louisiana, and apparently most of his descendants live in that state. The above mentioned Bible also mentioned a Samuel S. McElveen as born on August 22, 1806, and as having died in 1845. It is said Sam McElveen married Clarenda Varnado, and doubtless Samuel S. Varnado was the husband of this woman, and for that reason data as to him was included in the Bible. The data on Samuel S. McElveen is in pencil and as to the date of his death is practically illegible, and no doubt this data has been misread as to the year 1845 as one McElveen child is listed as two years of age in the Census of 1850, and the data may have had reference to young Sam who was born in 1845 if five years of age at the date of the Census.

Births recorded in Moses Varnadoe Family Bible:

Moses Varnadoe was born February 15, 1781.
Nancy Varnadoe, his wife, was born May 22, 1785.
Terrell Thompson was born May 22, 1804.
Maria Thompson was born December 25th, 1805. } some error here
Hannah Thompson was born July 4, 1806. }
Balaam Thompson was born September the 16th, A. D. 1807.
William Thompson was born October the 29th, 1809.
James Thompson was born February the 22nd, 1812.
Rebecca Thompson was born July the 10th, 1813.
Harriet Varnadoe was born April the 6th, 1806.
Lark W. Varnadoe was born November 1, A. D., 1807.

Mitchel J. Varnadoe was born July the 15th, A. D., 1809.
Wade H. Varnadoe was born January the 15th, A. D., 1812.
Alsada Varnadoe was born April the 22nd, A. D., 1814.
Lucinda Varnadoe was born July the 1st, A. D., 1815.
Nathaniel M. Varnadoe was born Oct. 22nd, 1818.
Clemensa O. Varnadoe was born Sept. 7th, A. D., 1819.
Amanda M. Varnadoe was born Oct. 29, A. D., 1820.
Samuel W. Varnadoe was born December 3rd, 1821.
Clarenda N. Varnadoe was born February 21st, A. D., 1824.
Moses R. Varnadoe was born Oct. the 4th, 1825.
Richard J. Daniel was born December the 23rd, 1802.
Delilah Lafayette Varnadoe was born Nov. the 15th, 1830.
William Green Thompson was born September the 14th, A. D., 1837.
Marion McDaniel was born the 18th day of July, 1839.
Nancy Ann McDaniel was born the 13th day of May, 1841.
George W. McDaniel was born June the 7th, 1843.
Samuel S. McElveen was born Aug. the 22nd (year obscure, maybe 1806, maybe 1845, an additional date is 1845.)

Beginning with Delilah Lafayette Varnadoe those listed were probably grandchildren of either Moses or Nancy. The name is spelled in the Bible as Varnadoe and not as we have spelled it above.

The following has been passed on to the writer and apparently was taken from some record of the family of S. H. Varnado, that is Samuel H. Varnado, who was a minor at the time of the death of his father, William Pearl Varnadoe, in 1855.

This writer in the past has had many letters from Fernando C. Varnado, one of those listed below, who said that his father was Samuel Varnado, and that his grandfather was Pearl Varnadoe. However the following list was not supplied by him.

BIRTHS

S. H. Varnado was born January 17th, A. D., 1837.
Nancy C. Varnado was born August the 24th, A. D., 1839.
Mary R. Varnado was born April the 9th, A. D., 1861.
Rachel E. Varnado was born October the 7th, A. D., 1862.
Misouri L. Varnado was born July the 1st, A. D., 1864.

James S. Varnado was born April the 4th, A. D., 1866.
Lucie F. Varnado was born May the 28th, A. D., 1869.
David R. Varnado was born April the 13th, A. D., 1872.
Fernando C. Varnado was born June the 10th, A. D., 1876.
Easter A. Stringfield was born August the 8th, 1837.
Oliva Simons was born June the 10th, 1837.

It appears that the last two named were the wives of said S. H. Varnado, and that Easter A. Stringfield was the second wife.

V4H. SAMUEL VARNADO(E), JR. This man was born in 1793 in South Carolina, and died September 20, 1874. He married Keziah Newsom on the 3rd day of March, 1814, the record of which marriage may be found in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court at Columbia, Mississippi. At the time of this marriage what is now Pike County was then a part of Marion County, Mississippi. According to the Census of 1850, Keziah Newsom was born in South Carolina in 1797, and according to the Minutes of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, of which she was a member, she died June 1, 1881. According to the Minutes of the same church, Samuel Varnado joined said church by experience and was baptised "at the age of 79 years on September 8, 1872." Samuel Varnado came to Pike County, then a part of Marion County, Mississippi Territory, in 1809, or shortly thereafter. It does not appear whether he came with his brothers Leonard and Moses or not. A letter from the Veterans Bureau affords details disclosed in an application for bounty land made by Samuel Varnado and an application for pension made by Keziah Varnado. From these records we obtain the following information: (Veterans Bureau File Ba-j/ILL, Samuel Varnado, W. C. 28016) He was a soldier in the War of 1812, having enlisted at Montpelier, St. Helena Parish, La., December 28, 1814, and was discharged January 20, 1815, and was stationed a part of the time at Navy Yard, St. Tamany Parish, La. He applied on April 12, 1855 for bounty land under the act of March 1855, on account of his services in said War. At the time of his application he gave his age as 65. Married March 2, 1813, to Miss Keziah Newsom, in Pike County, Mississippi, and resided near Osyka, Mississippi, until his death. Keziah Varnado, the soldier's widow, was allowed a pension on account of his service in the war of 1812, on her application made July 8, 1878. When this soldier made application for bounty land, 1858, Maston S. Newsom was a resident of St. Helena Parish, La. when Keziah made her application for pension J. E. Varnado was present who gave his age as 64. In connection with her application, Pharoah Carter, then 83 years of age, of Tangipahoa Parish, La., and Elizabeth Redmond, then 80 years of age, of Osyka, Mississippi, stated that they were present at the wedding of Samuel Varnado and Keziah Newsom. It is aoparent that in making these applications, an error was made as to the year of this marriage, as the record shows that it was in 1814 and not in 1813. She stated in her application for pension in 1878 that she was then 86 years of age. If this were true then she was born in 1792 and not 1797. The J. E. Varnado referred to no doubt was Isham E. Varnado (who was 64 years of age at that time,)and the party taking this information from the Government file misread the I for a J. The Maston Newsom referred to was a nephew of Keziah as will be seen by reference to the data on the Newsoms. Keziah had lived in Pike County and at the same place so long it had passed out of her mind that when she married it occurred in what then was Marion County.

Samuel Varnado and wife, Keziah Newsom Varnado, had the following children:

V4H1. Charles Varnado, born in 1822.
V4H2. Howell Varnado, born in 1820.
V4H3. Sarah (Sallie) Varnado, date of birth unknown.
V4H4. Archibald Varnado, born in 1824.
V4H5. George W. Varnado, born in 1830.
V4H6. Matilda Varnado, oldest child, born Dec. 17, 1814.
V4H7. David Varnado, oldest son, born about 1817.
V4H8. Newton B. Varnado, born in 1827.
V4H9. Meredith Varnado, born March 6, 1832.
V4H10. Sophronia Varnado, born in 1834.
V4H11. Oliver Varnado)
V4H12. Franklin Varnado) These three did not live to matur-V4H13. Samuel Varnado) ity and left no descendants.

V4H1. Charles Varnado was 28 years of age according to the Census of 1850, and if so was born in 1822, and that Census shows his wife as Ruth J. Varnadore, and as we know her name was Davis it would follow that her name was Ruth J. Davis. However the marriage records at Hazlehurst, Mississippi, show the marriage of Charles Varnadore to Rebecca Davis, and that the marriage occurred on December 9, 1844. Charles' name appeared in the Copiah County Census of 1850 as Varnadore. Mr. Roy Frank Varnado, P. O. Box 1190, Austin 66, Texas, is a descendant of this Charles Varnado, and has for many years been accumulatin- data on the family. This writer, therefore, will limit the naming of his descendants to the children only of this Charles Varnado. It seems that Cornelius Varnado, a son of this Charles Varnado, moved to Texas in 1885, and the descendants named by Mr. R. F. Varnado, live for the most part in that State. Charles and his wife had the following children:

V4H1A. Cornelius W. Varnado, died at Reagon, Texas.
V4H1B. Howell Varnado, died at Austin, Texas.
V4H1C. Rosella Louise Varnado, married Hunnicutt (Marlin, Texas).
V4H1D. Ellen Varnado, married Ratliff or Ratcliff (Brookhaven, Mississippi).
V4H1E. Emma Varnado, married Saxon (Marlin, Texas).
V4H1F. Sallie Varnado, married Oscar Fannin (Marlin, Texas).
V4H1G. Jane Varnado, married Gilbert (Texas).

V4H2. Howell Varnado (son of Samuel and Keziah) appears in the Census of 1850 as Howell Varnadore, aged 30 years, and as a resident of Copiah County, Mississippi, and from this it appears he was born in 1820. The name of his wife appears as Zenith E. Varnadore. Her maiden name was Davis, and was a twin sister of the wife of Charles Varnado (V4H1). The record of their marriage found at Hazlehurst, Mississippi, shows the name of this woman as Asenith Davis, and the date of the marriage was February 20, 1844. We regret that we are unable to name the descendants of this couple, except certain children as follows:

V4H2A. Volumina V. Varnado, aged 5 in 1850.
V4H2B. Mary Minerva Varnado, aged 2 in 1850, married Fannin, and lived in Texas till past 100 years of age.
V4H2C. Sarah E. Varnado, aged 4/12 years in 1850.
V4H2D. Meredith Varnado. This man was not included in the Census of 1850, as he had not been born at that date. He was living until recently, probably still living, at Union Church in Jefferson County, Mississippi, where some of his descendants still live. It is believed there were other children of Howell Varnado but this writer is unable to name them. This man, Meredith, appears as the only one of his family that did not go to Texas.

V4H3. SARAH (SALLIE) VARNADO married a man named Noble and they lived in Copiah County, Mississippi. Unable to name descendants.

V4H4. ARCHIBALD VARNADO, was born in 1824, in Pike County, Mississippi, married Penelope Sibley.

Lived for a time after marriage 2 miles north of Mt. Zion Church in Pike County, Mississippi, and then moved to Franklinton, Louisiana. C. A. Varnado, a great grandson of Archibald Varnado lists his children as follows:

V4H4A. Samuel Varnado died at 18 years of age.
V4H4B. Fletcher Varnado, married Rebecca Wallace.
V4H4C. I. Newton Varnado, married Jane Erwin.
V4H4D. W. Frank Varnado, married Elizabeth Corkern.
V4H4E. Mary Varnado, married Benjamin Fisher.
V4H4F. Adrian Varnado married William Wescom.
V4H4G. Elizabeth Varnado, married William Pittman.
V4H4H. Angeline Varnado, married Thomas B. Erwin.
V4H4I. Ida Varnado married Sandy D. Bullock.

The only one of these children this writer is able to extend further is W. Frank Varnado who married Elizabeth Corkern, and they had some 15 children. One of them was Wilmer W. Varnado, who had a son Otis A. Varnado, who married Mary Webb, a daughter of Myrtis Simmons Webb and husband C. V. Webb, Mary being a niece of this writer. Another child of W. Frank Varnado was Rosetta Varnado who married Walter Theodore Alford (Bos). She and the father of this writer were second cousins, and Walter Theodore and the mother of this writer were first cousins.

V4H5. GEORGE W. VARNADO, born in 1830, was a physician. He married Lucy Amacker. Lived at Franklinton, Louisiana. They had the following children:

V4H5A. Celia Varnado who married Dolph Bickham.
V4H5B. Dixie Varnado who married Charles Varnado.
V4H5C. Rosa Varnado, married 2) Johnson.

V4H6. MATILDA VARNADO. This woman was the oldest child of Samuel Varnado, Jr., and his wife, Keziah Newsom Varnado. She was born December 17, 1814, and died January 14, 1891. She married Jeremiah Strickland, who was born in Georgia on February 12, 1812, and died February 5th, 1886. They lived in Pike County, Mississippi, but this writer is unable to name descendants, except that she had a daughter, Sophronia, who married a McMillan, and a daughter who married a Hamilton.

V4H7. DAVID VARNADO. This man was the oldest son of Samuel Varnado, Jr., and wife, Keziah Newsom Varnado. Estimated date of birth 1816. He married Catherine Hartley on December 5, 1842, and lived in Copiah County, Mississippi. Record of the marriage is found in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court, at Hazlehurst, Mississippi. He and two brothers and a sister moved to Copiah County near the time of his marriage. He died sometime before 1850. Miss Agnes Lillard Varnado, a resident of Copiah County, Mississippi, stated that he had two children, who were named Sarah Varnado and Ann Varnado, and that after his death the widow of David married as best she could remember from family conversations a "Warren." The Federal Census of 1850 lists as residents of Copiah County, Mississippi, a family consisting of the following: Benajah Warner, Catherine Warner, both aged 23 years, and Sarah R. Varnado, aged 4 years, and Rachel A. Varnado, aged 2 years. This Rachel A. was doubtless Ann, and these two children were unquestionably the children of David Varnado and his wife Catherine. So we list the children of David Varnado as follows:

V4H7A. Sarah R. Varnado, born 1846, married first Davis and second Fred Konkwright.
V4H7B. Rachel Ann Varnado, born 1848, married Sam Douglas.

The date on this family supplied by Miss Agnes Lillard Varnado, of Wesson, Mississippi.

V4H8. NEWTON B. VARNADO, born June 26, 1827, died April 15, 1897, married Isabel Simmons, born December 13, 1831, died October 3, 1889. Isabel was a daughter of William Simmons and wife, Nancy Hope Simmons. Their children:

V4H8A. G. Hezekiah Varnado, married Ella Gibson.
V4H8B. Leah Varnado, married Oscar Magee.
V4H8C. H. Eugene Varnado, married Florence Martin.
V4H8D. Dr. Will Varnado (Dentist) married three times.
V4H8E. Madison Varnado, unable to name wife. Lived in Jackson, Mississippi.
V4H8F. Loraine Varnado, married Emma Andrews.
V4H8G. Mattie Varnado, married Jerry Coney.
V4H8H. Ada Varnado, married, lived in Louisiana.
V4H8I. Dewitt Varnado, married Dora McDaniel. Died in 1950, the last of his group.
V4H8J. Fannie Varnado, married Nelson Magee.
V4H8K. Ella Varnado, married and lived in Louisiana.

Dewitt Varnado and his wife resided on the old Newton B. Varnado Place until recently when he passed on. He was among the last of his group to go.

V4H9. MEREDITH VARNADO, a Dentist, was born March 6, 1832, and married Miss Mary Lillard. Their children:

V4H9A. George Varnado, lived at Wesson, Mississippi.
V4H9B. Sola Varnado.
V4H9C. Agnes Lillard Varnado, lives at Wesson, Mississippi.

V4H10. SOPHRONIA VARNADO, the youngest child of Samuel Varnado, Jr., and wife Hesiah Newson Varnado, to survive, was born June 2, 1834; married Solomon Simmons on November 29, 1849. Solomon Simmons was born August 4, 1825, and died April 24, 1908, and was the oldest son of William Simmons and wife, Nancy Hope Simmons, and the grandson of Richard Simmons and Ann Tyler Simmons, which last couple moved into Mississippi Territory in 1812 (some say as early as 1808 or 1809) from the Barnwell District of South Carolina. Solomon was a brother of Isabel Simmons who married Newton B. Varnado, already mentioned. Solomon purchased land from a man named Rice who had farmed the land and had built a log house thereon, which was the house into which Solomon and Sophronia moved. This log house was enclosed within extensions of the house as the family grew, and this house is still occupied by his descendants, that is the descendants of Solomon Simmons, and is now (the log portion) considerably more than 100 years old. Solomon and Sophronia resided therein until their deaths. They had and reared nine children all of whom lived to marry and have children,

The descendants of Solomon Simmons and Sophronia Varnado Simmons are listed in connection with the Simmons family on pages 35, 36, 37 and 38 of this paper and are not repeated here.

V4I. SARAH (SALLIE) VARNADO, a daughter of Samuel Varnado, Sr., married John Amacker who it seems is listed as a soldier in the Revolutionary War, and lived in Louisiana. She had a son named Nathaniel Amacker. She was the administrator of the Estate (Succession) of her husband John Amacker, and Nathaniel Amacker was the administrator of the Succession of his mother, Sarah Amacker, as shown by the records of St. Helena Parish, Louisiana, at Greensburg. Nathaniel Amacker appears as the administrator of the Succession of Sarah Amacker in the administration of the Estate of George Varnado, deceased at Natchez, Mississippi, referred to earlier in this paper. It seems that members of this family married into the family of Amos Kent. Obediah Amacker married "Mr. Amos Kent's daughter." Delilah Amacker married "Mr. Amos Kent's son." Dean Amacker married "Mr. Amos Kent's son." (Authority for the facts as to these marriages: Miss Agnes Lillard Varnado, Wesson, Mississippi.)

V4J. MARY VARNADO, a sister of Leonard Varnado (V4D) and Samuel Varnado (V4H), and also a sister of George Varnadoe, whose estate was administered at Natchez, Mississippi, reference to which is made earlier in this paper, married David Herlong. In the records of that estate it appears that her share therein was allotted to "David Herlong and Wife." A letter from Mr. Dan Varnado Herlong, of Hermanville, Mississippi, (now deceased) dated August 16, 1942, gives all the information the writer has as to Mary Varnado Herlong. It states:

"I am a descendant of David Herlong and Mary Varnado Herlong. (Grand son). My grandfather David Herlong died in 1864. My grandmother Mary Varnado Herlong died in 1863. Now my great-grandparents I don't remember my Grand Mother ever telling me their given names. I was only ten years old at her death. I do remember she said they came from South Carolina. They were the parents of thirteen children, two boys and Eleven girls. All of them are dead. I had one uncle, John Herlong, moved from Miss. to La. before the Civil War, and reared a large family at Winsboro, La. I have one cousin living that may have the old family record that will give us some on who my Great Grand Father was. If I can find that record will give you the benefit of it."

We did not hear anything further from him with reference to the family record.

We understand that a brother of Dan Varnado Herlong, Campbell Herlong, lived in Hazlehurst, Mississippi. Also a Mrs. Ernie Herlong Beasley now lives in Hazlehurst, Mississippi, and she is a sister of Dan Varnado Herlong and Campbell Herlong, and she advises that her father, and the father of Dan and Campbell was George Washington Herlong.

As stated in the beginning the above list of descendants of the original Varnado families in South Carolina is not complete. It has not been possible for this writer to extend the data down to the latest representatives of these families. There are a number known to the writer who might be named, but as complete data as to their families cannot be given, it was thought better to undertake only what could be done with a fair degree of accuracy, and leave it to others more familiar with their individual lines to complete the data in which they may be interested. The foregoing, as far as it goes, covers those who were whole brothers and sisters in the original group that settled in Mississippi Territory about 1809.

It remains to mention those who are said to have been half brothers and sisters of the group already listed:

V4K. Pearl Varnado married Rebecca, who it appears was Rebecca Thompson, though one of her grandsons said that she was Rebecca Amacker. Reference to the Bible Record of Moses Varnado, indicates that Moses had a stepdaughter named Rebecca Thompson, and that record also shows that "Perl" Varnado married Rebecca. The wife of Moses was named Nancy, and the son of Pearl Varnado had a grandmother named Nancy Varnado. So the best evidence seems to be that she was Rebecca Thompson, and not Rebecca Amacker. The administration of the Succession of Wm. P. Varnadoe and Rebecca Varnadoe was had in St. Helena Parish, Louisiana, in 1855, and this record shows that Pearl and Rebecca left as their heirs at law the following:

V4K1. Hardy Varnadoe, who was the administrator, and who signed his name as Hardy Varnado.
V4K2. Nancy Varnadoe, the wife of Warren Ricks of Washington Parish, Louisiana.
V4K3. Samuel Varnadoe, then a minor.

This record also shows that the grandmother of Samuel Varnadoe, the minor, was Nancy Varnadoe, of Washington Parish, Louisiana, and that she refused the tutorship of the minor because of her advanced age.

V4L. Henry Varnado. This name appears in the record of the Successions of Samuel Varnadoe, Sr., and of Wm. P. Varnadoe and Rebecca Varnadoe, in St. Helena Parish, Louisiana. Nothing further is known by this writer, except that he has been mentioned by several as a half brother of Samuel and Leonard, and as a son of Samuel Varnado, Sr.

V4M. Clarisy Varnado, who married Henry Strickland, and whose descendants say was a sister or half sister of Samuel (V4H and V4D) and Leonard. We cannot name descendants.

V4N. Rachel Varnadoe, married Joseph Cutrer, and had children, to name all known of by the writer:

V4N1. Newton Cutrer.
V4N2. Washington Cutrer.
V4N3. Giles Cutrer.
V4N4. Hiram Cutrer.

The following may be of interest (Data furnished by R. Frank Varnado, Austin, Texas.)

"Stub entries to Indents Issued in Payment of Claims against South Carolina growing out of the Revolution, by A. S. Salley, Jr.

Book X, Part II, page 206.
No. 3994. Issued October 17, 1786, to Leonard X Varnado for Eleven Pounds 16/6 for military duty as per account passed by commission.
Principal 11-16-16
Annual Interest 0.16.6-----"

The above was no doubt one of our Varnados, at that time there were two Leonard Varnados. The original Leonard Varnado who married Sarah Hutto, and their son Leonard Varnado, the latter of whom was at the date of the above payment 36 years of age. The elder Leonard was then in his sixties, or older, judging from the date of his marriage as in 1745. If the Leonard who drew this pay was the elder Leonard, then it would seem fairly clear, as he was the father of the Samuel Varnado, Sr., who came to Mississippi about 1809, that the Varnados in Mississippi have a Revolutionary Ancestry. On the other hand, if it were the younger Leonard above mentioned, and as it appears that the Mississippi Varnados do not come down from him, but through his brother, Samuel Varnado, Sr., the above quoted matter would afford no evidence of Revolutionary connection.

One would desire, if it were possible, to trace each of those named in the preceding pages down to the present generation. There are several thousand, who are descended from that group of men and women, who were brothers and sisters by the name of Varnado, who came to Mississippi very early in the 19th Century, and settled in Mississippi, and in the Florida Parishes of Louisiana. Enough has been shown to indicate what an enormous task it would be to name all of these descendants and to trace their connection with the family. Most of those named in this paper, unless otherwise noted, lived either in Pike County, or in adjacent counties, or in adjacent parishes of Louisiana. Tangipahoa Parish was carved out of St. Helena and Washington Parishes in 1869. Pike County, Mississippi, adjoins Tangipahoa and Washington Parishes, and many of those mentioned in this paper as living in St. Helena Parish may have lived in their lifetime in what is now Tangipahoa Parish. The records of St. Helena Parish are complete from its establishment to date. The records of Washington Parish were destroyed by fire in 1898.
